"We chose to use this week as an opportunity to allow our kids to pick any event to compete in (in addition to their core event) and we added a lot of throwers and jumpers to the mix as a result. Some did surprisingly well, but all had fun. We've done this the last couple of years and the kids really look forward to it. It allows us to break the monotony of the season a bit as we head into the "serious" portion of the season," said Head Coach Dan Knoy.

"I am looking forward to seeing the kids dressed in their best this weekend for prom and I am excited to see them bring their best the next few weeks starting with the Heartland Conference on Thursday."

The next meet will be the Heartland Athletic Conference to be held tomorrow at Dragon Stadium.

Entering the fifth lap of the 3200m race Friday evening at the Eastern Relays ran on the University of Louisville track, Mason Stone runs through heavy downpour and 40 degree windy temperatures. Stone qualified for the event after running a 10:15 at the Blue Raider Rumble.

Junior Cody Ray launches the discus in the air.

During the 1600m combined girls and boys race Green County athletes cheer on Austin Purvis and Carlee Coffey.

Switching up the normal events, the throwers enjoyed running a 4x200m relay at the LaRue County All-Comers meet April 16. Nathan Ray ran third leg for the relay. This was a great warm-up for the cold and rainy conditions Friday during the Eastern Relays. Ray placed second in both the boys' open shot and discus events. Athletes from all over the East Coast competed in the Invitational at U of L.

Abby Knoy clears the bar at 3'10." The track team hosts the Conference Meet Thursday. Events will begin at 5 p.m. CT.
