High school sports have officially ended for the 2018-2019 Green County school year for all but three student-athletes. Abigail Keltner, Haley Judd and Tanlee Hudgins are slated to play in the Fifth Region All-Star game.

Judd, an incoming junior, earned a spot on the team last season, but was unable to play because of an ankle injury. She is very thankful for this opportunity. “I tried my best to get back to my old self after surgery and I don’t think my season went as I wanted it to, but I guess others thought different,” said Judd. “I’m excited to play in this game alongside some great players from Region 5. ”Other players named to the Fifth Region All-Season team include: Peyton Berger, Angel Ashlock, Emily Bryant and Kaci Goedde from Central Hardin, Kennady Warder from Bethlehem, Trinity Baker from Washington County, Haley Mattingly and Abby Scott from Marion County, Laynie Childress from Hart County, Autumn Henderson and Danielle Sublett from Taylor County, and Trista Colansanti from Elizabethtown. The KHSAA All-State players were released last week and four Green County Lady Dragons were honored for their accomplishments this season. Keltner was named to First-team, Hudgins named to Second-team and both Judd and Madi Corbin received an honorable mention. Keltner is excited for one final appearance on a high school field.

“I am super honored to be able to play with such a talented group of girls,” said Keltner. “Everyone on the team is unique and brings something different to the table, all the diversity makes for a great team and a good time.” The All-Star game will take place at John Hardin, June 19 at 5:30 p.m. CT.

Archery Award

Jayden Skaggs of Louisville was presented the MVP award for archery at Ramsey Middle School in Louisville. Jayden is ranked No. 71 out of 1,173 of all middle school girl archers in Louisville and Jefferson County. She has also maintained at 4.0 grade average. Jayden will be attending Atherton High School this fall entering into their International Baccalaureate program and hopefully make the archery team. Jayden is the daughter of Jane Skaggs of Louisville, granddaughter of David and Susan Hudgins of Louisville and Robert and Jan Ennis of Greensburg.

Five high school students receive the KHSAA Triple Threat Award

By ANGELINA ALCOTT

KHSAA created the “Triple Threat Award” May of last year. In its second year, five Green County High School students received the award. To receive a triple-threat award, the student-athlete must participate in a KHSAA sport at the varsity level during fall, winter and spring of the academic year. The awards are determined by each school’s roster that is uploaded to KHSAA to determine athletic eligibility.

Zack Ferguson, Trinity Manners, Cody Ray, Dennis Rose and Makayla Vaughn all received the award for the 2018-2019 year.

The Ferguson triple threat included: football, basketball, and track; Manners-cross country, archery, track; Rose-football, basketball, baseball; Vaughn-golf, bowling and Esports, and Ray-football, bowling and track.

Ray, a first year recipient, was excited to be named a triple-threat athlete.

“I am honored to receive this award,” said Ray. “I think everyone should play as many sports as possible so we can continue to represent Green County, the best school in the nation, well”

In the first year, three Green County students received the award: Dennis Rose, Emma Howell and Shelby Howell. Rose has received the honor both years.

This award was created to de-emphasize sports specialization.
