Sunset 5K event raises $4,500

Green County High School sophomore Zack Jewell is greeted by cheers as he rounds the final curve. Jewell placed first overall in the Sunset 5K. There were 140 participants in the fundraiser to raise money for Twisted Pink, an organization that focuses on metastatic breast cancer. Over 220 people were involved.

Hannah Givens, daughter of the late Lynne Givens, presented Todd Conley with the Lynne's Legacy Award during the awards ceremony. Conley was the 32nd participant to cross the finish line; 32 was Lynne's favorite number.

Walkers unite. All smiles, many took part in the second annual Sunset 5K Saturday in Ebenezer. Shelley Bishop (middle), placed first in her age group of walkers and Jennifer Squires (right), placed first overall as female walker.

Always supportive of their family's endeavors, Evelyn and David Givens separate popsicles to pass out after the race. Mr. Givens also coordinated a corn hole tournament that will be carried into future Sunset 5Ks.

It was another award for the volleyball team. Current and past Lady Dragon volleyball players won the award for the largest group to participate in the 5K. Lynne Givens was a long-time coach for Green County. Daughter, Hannah Givens was recently named University of Lynchburg volleyball's new Graduate Assistant coach.

At the conclusion of the Sunset 5K event, Julie Smyrichinsky gives mom Evelyn Givens a hug. Smyrichinsky's daughter Shelby Howell spent many hours orchestrating the 5K along with help from family. The evening was filled with fellowship, memories, and special moments as the evening's event raised over $4,500 in honor of Lynne's Legacy.

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

Freedom of the Press is one of your Five Freedoms protected under the First Amendment. It protects the right to report news or circulate opinions without censorship from any form of government or law. This includes information you gather from news programs, newspapers, books and magazines, or social media.

Not only does this critical right allow people to gather news, information and opinions from a variety of mediums, but a free media also acts as a watchdog with the capability to report on government wrongdoings.

This right is not limited to major news programs and mainstream sources. It also protects you in obtaining and sharing information without penalty. Freedom of the Press exposes ideas and opinions based on facts, research and credible sources to inform ordinary citizens.
