Thank you event

Green County Schools hosted the second-annual faculty/staff cookout at Green County Middle School Oct. 18. Each year the district's board members, school administrators, and district administrative staff plan this special event as a small way to say, "Thank You," to each employee for their continued service and dedication to the students, the schools, and the district. Green County Schools Superintendent, Will Hodges, commented on the importance of the district's employees, "We appreciate each employee and the important role that they serve in making Green County Schools a great place to be. Every employee across the district contributes greatly toward enabling us to meet our goal of providing a higher level of learning for our students."

This year's cookout included entertainment provided by Green County Intermediate School custodian, Nicholas Hall, below, and a series of friendly competitions between the schools, above.
