Backpack program

Photos by Angelina Alcott

Advanced Agriculture took a trip down to help load 700 backpacks, that were collected locally, full of items in a trailer that will be delivered to Eastern Kentucky children. Wilburn and Connie Bonta take a photo with the class as they take a quick break from loading. The goal for the Kentucky Baptist Convention Backpack state program is 10,000.

Austin Banks carries one of many sealed boxes full of backpacks stuffed to the brim with school supplies, toys, and personal hygiene products to the trailer.

VOTE Tuesday, Nov. 5

Nobody will ever deprive the American people of the right to vote except the American people themselves and the only way they could do this is by not voting.
