Christmas Tapestry to be presented Dec. 3 in Ransdell Chapel at CU

MADISON BRISCOE
CU STUDENT WRITER

The annual Christmas Tapestry presented by the School of Music will be Tuesday, Dec. 3 at 7 p.m. in the Ransdell Chapel.

This year will be the 15th annual concert.

Everyone is invited to attend in support of all the school of music ensembles, Dr. William Budai, associate professor of piano and associate dean of the School of Music, said.

“We put this concert together each year as our gift to the community – both the University community as well as the broader Campbellsville and Taylor County community,” Budai said.

The Tapestry will feature popular Christmas songs such as “Mary Did You Know,” “Rockin’ Around the Christmas Tree” and “O Holy, Night.”

There will also be some not as familiar, Budai said, such as “Christmastime” by Michael W. Smith and “Some Day at Christmas” by Stevie Wonder.

“We will have a wide variety of pieces and many different styles, so I’m sure there will be something for everyone,” Budai said.

Most ensembles have been preparing their pieces for the concert since the beginning of the fall semester, and Budai hopes to have a full chapel just like performances in previous years.

“So, come early to get a seat.”

The ensembles performing at the Tapestry are the University Orchestra, Women’s Chorus, New Doxology, Rock Combo, Jazz Combo, Faculty Jazz Combo, Woodwind Ensemble, Saxophone

Ensemble, Piano Duet, The Campbellsville Youth Orchestra with the Taylor County Middle School Chamber Choir and a few others.

Budai said many people in the community attend the Christmas Tapestry because they view it as the official start to the Christmas season.

He said it is a great opportunity to ring in the holidays and show your support to university music students who work hard every single day. The event is free.

Think Toy Safety...by knowing toy dangers

LAKE CUMB. DIST.
HEALTH DEPT.

When Buying Toys

Choose toys with care. Keep in mind the child’s age, interests and skill level.

Look for quality design and construction in all toys for all ages.

Make sure that all directions or instructions are clear—to you and, when appropriate, to the child. Plastic wrappings on toys should be discarded at once before they become deadly playthings.

Be a label reader. Look for and heed age recommendations, such as “Not recommended for children under three.” Look for other safety labels including: “Flame retardant/Flame resistant” on fabric products and “Washable/hygienic materials” on stuffed toys and dolls should be free of sharp glass and metal edges. With use, however, older toys may break, exposing cutting edges.

Small Edges

The law bans small parts in toys intended for children under three. This includes removable small eyes and noses on stuffed toys and dolls, and small, removable squeakers on squeeze toys.

Loud Noises

Toy caps and some noise-making guns and other toys can produce sounds at noise levels that can damage hearing. Do not fire closer than one foot to the ear. Do not use indoors.

Cords and Strings

Toys with long strings or cords are dangerous for infants and very young children. The cords can become wrapped around an infant’s neck, causing strangulation. Never hang toys with long strings, cords, loops, or ribbons in cribs or playpens where children can become entangled. Remove crib gyms from the crib when the child can pull up on hands and knees; some children have strangled when they fell across crib gyms stretched across the crib.

Sharp Points

Toys which have been broken may have dangerous points or prongs. Stuffed toys may have wires inside the toy which could cut or stab if exposed. A CPSC regulation prohibits sharp points in new toys and other articles intended for use by children under eight years of age.

Propelled Objects

Projectiles—guided missiles and similar flying toys—can be turned into weapons and can injure eyes in particular. Children should never be permitted to play with hobby or sporting equipment that has sharp points. Arrows or darts used by children should have soft cork tips, rubber suction cups or other protective tips intended to prevent injury. Check to be sure the tips are secure. Avoid those dart guns or other toys which might be capable of firing articles not intended for use in the toy, such as pencils or nails.

All Toys Are Not For All Children

Keep toys designed for older children out of the hands of little ones. Follow labels that give age recommendations—some toys are recommended for older children because they may be hazardous in the hands of a younger child. Teach older children to help keep their toys away from younger brothers and sisters. Even balloons, when uninflated or broken, can choke or suffocate if young children try to swallow them. More children have suffocated on uninflated balloons and pieces of broken balloons than on any other type of toy.

Electric Toys Electric toys must meet mandatory requirements for maximum surface temperatures, electrical construction and prominent warning labels. Electric toys with heating elements are recommended only for children over eight years old. Children should be taught to use electric toys properly, cautiously and under adult supervision.

Infant Toys

Infant toys, such as rattles, squeeze toys, and teethers, should be large enough so that they cannot enter and become lodged in an infant’s throat.
