

Reading Railroad to be at Depot May 7

Special to The Clinton Courier

The Reading Railroad will again arrive at the Olde Towne Depot on Tuesday, May 7.

Children are invited to visit the Depot on the first Tuesday of every month to enjoy a train-themed book at the Depot. As children arrive, they will have the chance to look at the HO-scale model train and other items on display at the Depot. After the train circles the track a few times, children will explore a book that highlights trains, followed by a train-themed craft or activity.

The Reading Railroad activities are designed for preschool children. It is held on the first Tuesday of every month at 3:30 p.m. at the Olde Towne Depot.

For more information, contact the Olde Towne Depot at 601-924-0113.

OBITUARY

James Ware "Jim" Neblett

James Ware "Jim" Neblett, 88, died peacefully at home on April 9, 2019, with his loving wife of 64 years and family by his side.

Born March 25, 1931, in Greenwood, Mississippi, to James Barbee and Gladys Ratliff Neblett, he spent his boyhood years at the family cotton farm in Morgan City playing football, fishing at Mossy Lake, and duck hunting with his dad and brother. He was an Eagle Scout and a scout leader.

After receiving a chemical engineering degree from Ole Miss, Jim served as Officer of Damage Control in the United States Navy, where he traveled to countries throughout the world. Jim furthered his education with a master's degree from the University of Cincinnati. His career with General Electric earned him various awards for work patents.

Jim avidly studied the Bible and was considered a Bible scholar. He taught adult Sunday school and served as lay minister for the Methodist Church. He stayed busy with his love of photography, painting, writing poetry, gardening, and making jewelry for his wife from his rock and gem collection.

Because of his love of animals, he befriended a squirrel he called Herman, who often sat on his shoulder. Jim had a brilliant mind and was affectionately teased for being a walking encyclopedia by family and colleagues. He was also known and loved for his quick wit at family gatherings.

Preceded in death by his son William Allan Neblett, he is survived by his wife, Bettie Neblett; daughters Barbara Neblett, Ruth Webster (Warren), and Sue Langley (Mark); a brother, Robert Neblett; grandchildren Brian Webster, Cole Webster, Brant Webster, Carolyn Weber, Greg Rasmussen, Jamie Herrington, Jeff Langley and Chad Langley; and nine great-grandchildren. Dearly loved by his family, we thank God for all the wonderful years we shared with him.

A celebration of his life was held on Sunday, April 14, 2019, at 3 p.m. at Teague Funeral Home in Charlottesville. Flowers may be sent to the Teague Funeral Home, 2260 Ivy Road, Charlottesville, Virginia, or donations can be made to the ASPCA as an alternative.

Online condolences may be made to the family at www.teaguefuneralhome.com.
