As others venture into our town, whether they are just passing through or have it as their destination, I am sure they are curious about "What things are there to do in Barnesville?"

There are a plethora of activities to attend and participate in all year round for any age group. As the Record-Review does for every Streetlight edition, we thought going to the experts would be our best option.

Kindergartners from Atkinson Elementary School were asked to share favorite activities or events they enjoy. In this special publication you will find responses to the question, What are some of your favorite things you enjoy doing around Barnesville?

Read on to hear the perspective from this group of Barnesville's younger citizens.
