Volume 100|April 2019

The month of April 2019 marks our 100th Sheriff Corner article that we publish monthly starting in January 2011. We would like to thank our readers for reading the article and submitting questions or topics that they would like covered here.
We would also like to thank our publishers for including and sharing this information with their readers and in their publications, websites, newsletters etc. We are always looking for new topics to cover and would like to hear your suggestions.

During April, the Cass County Sheriff's Office and other partner agencies around the state concentrate on Distracted Driving and subsequent laws such as Texting and Driving etc. April is National Distracted Driving Awareness Month. The U.S. Department of Transportation's (USDOT) National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHT-SA) is mobilizing law enforcement officers nationwide to look out for drivers texting or using their phone behind the wheel. The 'U Drive. U Text.
U Pay.' high-visibility enforcement campaign, now in its fifth year. In 2016, new NHTSA data shows that at least 3,450 people were killed in motor vehicle crashes involving distracted drivers; including those who were texting and driving.

Cass County Attorney Ben Lindstrom

Cass County Attorney Ben Lindstrom reports:

On April 29, 2019, Thomas Jacob Lukanen III appeared in Cass County District Court for a disposition hearing on a probation matter. Lukanen had previously been convicted of Criminal Sexual Conduct in the Fourth Degree involving Force or Coercion. At the hearing, the County Attorney's Office requested that his sentence be executed and cited his repeated failures to complete sex offender treatment and to stay in contact with his supervising agent.
The Court granted this request and ordered Lukanen to serve 24 months in prison followed by 10 years of conditional release. Conditional release is required by law in this type of case and involves supervision by a Department of Corrections agent once the prison sentence has been served. A person who violates the requirements of conditional release can be sent back to prison by the Department of Corrections without the need to involve the Courts or

the County Attorney's Office.

Clint Brian Holler (age 33) also appeared in Cass County District Court for sentencing, having previously pled guilty to the felony offense of Distributing Material to a Child that Relates to or Describes Sexual but phone calls are currently allowed if the driver wasn't considered distracted. Under the new law, drivers can send messages or place calls while driving only if their device is in hands-free or voice-activated mode. The law makes an exception for emergency calls.

The new law doesn't allow manually punching in a phone number or an address into a navigation GPS app or finding a contact or text messages. You may not hold your phone in your hand. Hands-free technology, such as Bluetooth, headsets, ear-pieces or built in vehicle technology to connect your phone to the vehicle audio system allows a driver to do these things without actually holding their phone.

This law will make roads safer, er, as distracted driving has increased traffic fatalities state and country wide. This law will help law enforcement keep highways safe as drivers aren't allowed to have a phone in their hand, it will be easier to see violations and take effective action.

The penalty for violating the law is a petty misdemeanor, carrying a $50 fine for the first violation and a $275 fine for subsequent violations.

If you have specific questions that you would like answered in this column or in person, please feel free to contact me anytime using one of the following methods:

County Sheriff's Office, 303

Box 1119, Walker, MN 56484.

Conduct. The Minnesota Sentencing Guidelines that control sentencing in this case require probation for the offense. Holler was therefore placed on probation with several standard conditions, including the condition that he have no unsupervised contact with children under the age of 16 and follow the recommendations of a diagnostic assessment. As a result of the conviction, Holler is required to register as a Predatory Offender for a period of ten years.
If he fails to register, he can be charged with a crime. According to the criminal complaint filed by the Cass County Attorney's Office, Holler is a resident of South Dakota and exchanged numerous text messages of a sexual nature with an undercover law enforcement officer.
The officer informed Holler that "she is just 15 years old" and the defendant continued sending texts of a sexual nature. Holler then stated he wanted to meet.
Upon arriving in Walker, law enforcement arrested him. During a search of his vehicle, law enforcement located a pack of condoms in the center console, two rifles, and a handgun. This matter was investigated by the Cass County Sheriff's Office and the Minnesota Bureau of Criminal Apprehension.

Ask a Trooper

By Sgt. Neil Dickenson
Minnesota State Patrol

Question: I have a North Dakota Commercial Driver's License (CDL) "Class A" permit. But my employer is in the Minnesota area. Can I legally drive on my "Class A" CDL permit in the state of Minnesota if I have a licensed CDL "Class A" driver with me, in the Minnesota area to get my behind-the-wheel experience? Or do I have to be in the state of North Dakota for my permit to be valid?

Answer: Your North Dakota CDL Permit is valid in any state where you are driving, if all the rest of the requirements have been met (age, medically qualified, restrictions, etc.)

The State Patrol
Commercial Vehicle Section is comprised of civilian commercial vehicle inspectors and state troopers. They work together to conduct commercial vehicle safety inspections and weighing at highway weigh stations and roadside locations throughout the state.

Under the Commercial Vehicle Section, the Office of Pupil Transportation Safety is responsible for performing periodic and random inspections of school buses operated in the state. Commercial Vehicle Section personnel also facilitate training and outreach programs to inform drivers and carriers of rules and regulations, including certifying technicians and mechanics to perform annual inspections under the state's Mandatory Inspection Program.
