

Best Accountants:

Alexander Thompson Arnold

Press readers have chosen ATA’s David Hart and Tommy Legins as Weakley County’s best accountants for 2019. This is the fourth year for ATA to win the award. ATA is a full service CPA firm with a well-rounded staff who handles all of your accounting needs. “There’s tremendous gratitude to our clients and business partners who helped contribute to ATA’s success,” said David Hart. “Tommy and I look forward to continuing to serve our clients.”

David Hart is a partner at ATA and has created a niche during his career; he leads the firm’s business valuation practice and holds the most prestigious credentials for that specialty. During the past 24 years, his business valuation experience has included bankruptcy matters, family law, business valuations and contract/shareholder disputes. David’s business valuation experience compliments his tax practice and gives him a unique insight when serving his tax clients.

Legins is an accomplished financial and tax accountant with more than 28 years of experience serving a variety of business, individual and agricultural clients. Legins is a Principal at ATA and holds multiple designations such as certified public accountant (CPA), chartered global management accountant (CGMA), and master of business administration (MBA).

Creative agency, Sodium Halogen has recently merged with the firm adding a digital consulting arm that will offer further resources for clients, including brand, website and app development to increase efficiency.
