

Best Auto Repair: Jones Auto Body Shop

Donnie Jones, owner of Jones Auto Body Shop in Martin, stands in front of the wall before entering the shop's office proudly showcasing his six years' worth of certificates naming his business Weakley County Reader's Choice Awards Best Body Shop.

Before Jones ever began receiving Best of Awards, he started his business 36 years ago at his home in 1980 as Highway 45 Body Shop. Six years later Jones workload became so large he decided to move it to 115B Hyndsver Rd. and rename the business as Jones Auto Body Shop.

Jones told Weakley County Press, "I wanted to build a business that I could hand down to my children and grandchildren." Jones is proud to say that 33 years later his shop is still family owned and operated in the same location in Martin.

Jones Auto Body Shop offers services one could only find at a family-owned business—not only will they happily change their customers' oil in the parking lot, but they will also know the name of the customers they are helping. That is what sets Jones Auto Body Shop apart from larger corporate chain stores and what keeps them winning Weakley County's Reader's Choice Best Body Shop year after year.

Best Building Supplies: Taylor HomeWorks

For over fifty years, Taylor Home Works of Martin has provided Weakley Countians with excellent goods and services for any sized project, big or small. Although Taylor Home Works has always been the go-to business for large, contractual jobs, they are also a trusted source for at-home installations and renovations, which is what has gained them Weakley County 2019 Reader's Choice Awards Best Building Supply company.

Putting their customers first by providing such vast supplies to fit any need or budget is what sets Taylor Home Works apart from the average chain supply store.
