

Moeller Lawn & Landscape a family business on the grow

Most teenage boys saw mowing the lawn as just a way to earn a little money during the summer. But that wasn't the case for Michael Moeller of Ruthersford. Michael started mowing lawns at age 11 and hasn't stopped since. He is now the owner of Moeller Lawn & Landscape, a successful lawn care business that also offers landscaping, irrigation, sod installation and much more.

Michael's business has grown from using his dad's riding and push mowers into a thriving business with several commercial John Deere zero turn mowers that make his business exponentially more efficient. Having started with residential lawns and church yards and cemeteries, Moeller Lawn & Landscape now also does extensive lawn care for businesses such as Southern Machinery Repair of Union City, and Texas Gas in Kenton. He currently takes care of the lawn-care needs of homes and business in Gibson, Obion and Weakley counties. Moeller Lawn & Landscape is indeed a "family" business. Aided by both his wife, April, and his mother and father, along with a newly added full-time employee, Michael stays busy plying his trade six days a week, yet still finds time to keep his Mamaw's yard and flowerbeds tended and looking good. Michael and April have a daughter, Paislee, who loves to take a spin around the yard on her daddy's mower also.

Moeller's landscaping business has grown from dad's riding and push mowers in the family garage to a thriving business that takes him all over west Tennessee.

Michael has plans for future growth and expansion. He has a large greenhouse in which he already grows some of his plants, but one day hopes to increase his shrubbery and flowering plant business.

Michael and his dad pride themselves on a job that goes above and beyond. Customer satisfaction is the top priority for the Moellers, and they offer free estimates on any project. They also offer a unique virtual design service that allows clients to see landscaping options before making their vision a reality.
