Fun Day & Greenway Cont.

Rachel Melton is a graphic designer and an MFA Candidate at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. She began working as a graphic designer with the Tennessee Soybean Festival in 2017 and received her BFA from the University of Tennessee at Martin in 2018. Her continuing work for the festival includes cover graphics for the past three years, as well as graphics for social media, event posters, banner design and printing. Working with the festival in this way allows her to further her design work in rural communities in her home region of West Tennessee.

GREENWAY From Page 60

Paintings can be oil, acrylic or mixed media. Submitted pieces should be fixed in a medium that can sustain the outdoor environment and submitted dry. Include title, artist/family/group full name, category (individual, family, or group) and materials used with each submitted piece, which can be written on the back of the board. Contact Camile Noe at Martin City Hall by email at cnoe@cityofmartin.net or by phone at (731) 587-3126 with questions.

Winning artwork will be displayed at the Martin City Hall following the competition.

FUN DAY From Page 61

The event would be to volunteer, whether it would be to serve as a buddy for a special needs participant or to dress up as a character. This would be a wonderful opportunity for people in the community who want to help, according to Wright.

"We are still looking for donations and volunteers," said Wright.

There are additional sponsorship opportunities available for the Soybean Festival, ranging in donation levels of $100+ and earning sponsorship benefits and recognition.
