CEO Students Visit Local Businesses to Gain Insight on Careers

The Douglas County CEO Program ventured to different local businesses in Villa Grove including Chicks in Training, Villa Grove State Bank, and the Scoop to speak with Jason Eversole about his Clubs Choice Business. About Chicks: CEO students had a workout after meeting with the Chix in Training, a faith based exercise and wellness business that was started 13 years ago in Villa Grove. The energy and enthusiasm of the owners has obviously been a bit part of its success and growth as it is now offered in nine different locations. The Villa Grove State Bank: Villa Grove State Bank President, Don Cler hosted the CEO students and shared his wisdom about ethics, giving back to the community, and how the bank is celebrating its 100th year in business this year! About Jason Eversole, a salesman with Club's Choice put on a spread for the CEO students while telling them how important networking and relationship building can be for successful business. Jason also shared his many creative ideas to incentivize students to sell products for school fundraisers, one of which is a ride in his limo.
