merely make the same rate they did years ago. This is a very simplistic way of calculating pricing. This defines why pricing for taxidermy seems to be exponentially higher now relative to the "last time" we had a deer mounted.

This discussion is merely to determine the impact of inflation on studio's wage, not to determine whether their rate was accurate in the beginning!

As an educated consumer one must always consider all three aspects of a taxidermy studio and not focus on only one.

James was accorded the North American Champion Taxidermist in 2016; there to help James showcase his top honors was his wife, Carla.

My Texas Hunt Harvest web page.

Anyone can get the "My Texas Hunt Harvest" app at tpwd.texas.gov/myhunt. The app works without a data signal as long as it has already been downloaded to the device. The app is also bilingual and available in Spanish to customers who use Spanish as the main language setting on their phone or other mobile devices.

Hunters are also reminded to review the TPWD chronic wasting disease regulations for information about CWD testing requirements and carcass movement restrictions for the 2019-2020 season. Also as a reminder, Texas hunters harvesting deer, elk, moose, or other susceptible species in other CWD-positive states must also comply with carcass movement restrictions when bringing those harvested animals back into Texas. Additionally, the Texas Animal Health Commission has mandatory testing requirements that apply to elk, red deer, sika, moose, and reindeer.

S'MORES

INGREDIENTS:

1 package
fudge striped cookies
1 package
of large marshmallows

INSTRUCTIONS:

Oven: Place cookies upside down (chocolate side up) on a cookie sheet and then place the marshmallows on top of the cookies. Top each marshmallow with another cookie right side up and place in the oven at 300 degrees for 5-7 minutes.

Campfire: Place a large marshmallow on a stick and get it as crisp as you want it. Stick the marshmallow between two cookies and you're good to go.
