Hayley Marrs

Hayley Marrs, 18, has been employed as a health worker since May 2020. She just graduated high school this year and is now a certified medical assistant at an urgent care in Midwest City. Hayley has been dealing with 12 hour shifts and crazy covid testing (during flu season, nonetheless) while also being in school at Rose State College to pursue a nursing degree. She says that working in healthcare is extremely rewarding, but can be very stressful. She hopes everyone is staying safe and keeping their heads up through this rough time.

Amber McNeely

Congratulations to Indian Meridian Elementary 2020-21 Teacher of the Year Mrs. Amber McNeely!

Tina Dewey

It is with tremendous joy that we introduce the 2020-2021 LW Westfall Elementary Teacher of the Year. It is a prestigious honor to be named the Westfall Teacher of the Year because it comes directly from our dynamic faculty. Here are a few things the faculty wrote when nominating this year's teacher of the year.

"Mrs. Dewey is always positive no matter the situation. Her work load is tremendous and she manages to overcome obstacles anyway. She completes each task gracefully. Mrs. Dewey reaches out to students virtually and in person. She manages testing scores and meetings, offers parental support, encourages and loves her students all while pushing them to do more than they thought possible. She consults with teachers and provides intervention ideas and guidance. She does all of this without complaint, frustration or despair. Mrs. Dewey never calls attention to herself. She is worthy of this honor because of her devotion, passion and hours of work."

It is my great honor to introduce the 2020-2021 LW Westfall Elementary Teacher of the Year Mrs. Tina Dewey.
