TRUTH IN SCRIPTURE

Fall of Jerusalem

II Kings 25; II Chronicles 36
 King Zedekiah of Judah rebelled against the king of Babylon who had put Zedekiah on the throne. The LORD spoke to the the leaders of Judah through His prophets because he had pity on His people and on His dwelling place. They did not listen and mocked God's messengers, despised His words and scoffed at His prophets. Finally God's wrath was aroused against His people and there was no remedy. He brought against them the king of the Babylonians. The Babylonians killed the young men with the sword in the sanctuary sparing neither young man nor young woman, old man or aged. God handed all of Judah over to Nebuchadnezzar who carried to Babylon all the articles from the temple of God and the treasures of the king and his officials. The Babylonians set fire to God's temple, broke down the wall of Jerusalem and burned all the palaces, destroying everything of value. Taken into exile to Babylon was the remnant, who escaped from the sword, and they became servants to the king of Babylon and his sons until the kingdom of Persia came to power. The land of Judah enjoyed its sabbath rests until the seventy years were completed in fulfillment of the word of the LORD spoken by Jeremiah.
