

Considering a RETIREMENT COMMUNITY?

Choosing a place to retire is always a big decision. Where you retire will affect the quality of your life in your golden years. You'll want to be living somewhere that is not only physically suitable for you and meeting any health needs you might have, but also provides you with a strong community to become a part of with a good social aspect too!

Many retirees decide to move into a retirement community because along with having staff on site that can help if needed, it also means that you can live close to a group of "like-minded people" and can have fun getting involved with their regular social activities!

Factors to Consider:

- Level of Care
- Social Life
- Personal Benefits
- Location
- Religion

Consider these retirement communities inside this special section. They will be happy to answer all your questions.

A Guide to Medical Equipment for Seniors

Medical equipment is designed to help people who have a particular functional limitation that is a result of a medical condition. They may have trouble walking, using their hands to do house hold chores or using ordinary bathroom fixtures such as toilets and showers. The need for these aids could be immediately apparent from an accident or it may appear gradually over time.

Two ways a senior can get medical equipment:

1. Request a Doctor's Order—If a senior would like to bill health insurance for the equipment needed, their physician will need to write a prescription (equipment coverage is limited).
2. Pay Out of Pocket—In some situations, time is the most important factor if equipment is needed immediately. We carry quality equipment brands at affordable prices.

At All Care, our mission is to help individuals find the right medical equipment. Our passionate team works closely with patients and caregivers to deliver high-quality products with a helpful, one-of-a-kind experience.
