The reception was held at the Ferdinand Community Center, decorated in winter greenery, Christmas ornaments and candles of white, gold and silver. The Rumors, a New Albany band, performed, and the couple enjoyed their first dance, followed by the parents' dances — and, as previously mentioned, the flash mob.

Yes! The Dance Team surprised Mitchell and Taylor, a Beyonce fan, with a specially choreographed dance performance to many of the pop star's hits!

"He's very outgoing," Taylor says of Mitchell, who is a Financial Advisor with Edward Jones.

"He is just himself 100% of the time... He's a very good people person, and that's probably why I was so comfortable with him."

She says the couple complement one another perfectly: they are both up for trying new things; both have a traditional side; and both are supportive of one another's passions.

"He is seriously so supportive of everything," she nods. "I really do appreciate that about him."

These days, the couple is enjoying married life — and are just as busy as ever. They find time to relax together between work, coaching, and house-hunting, and they plan to honeymoon in April, at Riviera Maya (Cancun).
