During the month of December, Mrs. Wooten's 4th block class from Russell County High School participated in the Entrepreneurship Challenge.

The challenge is much like the TV show "Shark Tank," with students coming up with innovative product ideas and presenting them to the judges. The goal of the challenge is to teach students professional presentation skills, to be creative and think outside the box, and to build confidence.

In preparation, the students picked their groups and worked for 5 weeks with mentors who came in once a week during 4th block to help them come up with an idea and create a business plan. They also gave them advice

The Times Journal

Saturday December 21st, 2019 The Dance Shoppe presented the first annual show, "Believe, A New Christmas Tradition".

Directors of this magical show were Zach Grider and McKinzie Henson. However, a lot of work went into the production from the rest of the Dance Shoppe Staff and Volunteers as well. Students and staff begin working on this production in early August.

"Believe, A New Christmas Tradition" started the first half of the show
