

Sports swings back into action

(AT RIGHT)

Brenner Helm, seven, son of Landon and Amber Helm, swung for the fences during practice at the Jamestown City Park last week

Mayes Gosser, left, flexed his form last week while practicing with the Central Kentucky Bulldogs Travel Team. Mayes is the son of Matt and Lisa Gosser, of Russell Springs.

Matthew Luttrell, right, helped coached kids on baseball fundamentals at the Jamestown City Park Friday.

ASK Dr. Angelia Choose Love

Pandemic fear, we I love my family, friends, coworkers and everyone else and am open to new ideas. This season has given me pause for many reasons- especially how divided we appear. People speak with such authority on issues as if their beliefs should be everyone's beliefs. It is time to examine ourselves and bring alignment in our beliefs and actions.

What is important to you? Not what your parents taught, not what your family says, not what your friends believe; think on what matters to you. For example, Lovingkindness, Honesty, Genuineness, Positive attitude and Life-Long Learning comes to my mind first. Make a list of what values you deeply care about and reflect on how your actions show your beliefs and values. Examine where you are in alignment with what you care about and where you need to make changes. If "Love" is a belief for you, watch your thoughts and reactions when you disagree or don't like something. Recently, I have been in the company of people I care about attempting some "real" conversations only to have reactions of agitation with loud voices. If ever there was a time for "real" conversations it is now. Allow other's opinions different from yours. If you listen, you just might learn something new.

We are only divided by our beliefs if we choose to be. I'm a Christian/Non-Christian; I'm a Democrat/Republican; I'm This Color/That Color. We are all people and like it or not, we are in this together. And,

We Will Get Through This Together!

Remember I John 4:18-21: 'There is no fear in love. But perfect love drives out fear, because fear has to do with punishment. The one who fears is not made perfect in love. We love because he first loved us. If anyone says, "I love God," yet hates his brother, he is a liar. For anyone who does not love his brother, whom he has seen, cannot love God, whom he has not seen. And he has given us this command: Whoever loves God must also love his brother.'

This week, be mindful and treat everyone well. Be Grateful in all things. Love God and People. Amen.

great-grandparents had lived was still standing. From the Corolla, we soaked up the scene, pondering life there during the 1920's. I pictured their garden that had grown the potatoes, tomatoes, and onions for the stew.

Besides the ones at Homemade Hollow, I don't know all my ancestors or which country they came from. There are a few things I do know:

1. God had His eye on me even before I was born. (You, too!) Psalm 139:13 and 15 reminds us all: "For You created my inmost being; You knit me together in my mother's womb...Your eyes saw my unformed body..."

2. In 1971, I was adopted. Into the family of God. He welcomed me with open arms and has never left me-though I have deserved it at times. He longs to spend time with me, and you, too. He wants to bless us and has a plan for our lives-a good one.

One day, I will get to see my mother again in heaven, along with some grandparents and great grandparents. I can picture us sitting playing Rook...but NOT around a table and eating wiener stew!

Thank You

The family of Rusty Hill wishes to express their heartfelt gratitude for the love shown with his recent passing. Your many acts of kindness, condolences, and support are greatly appreciated. We also wish to send our appreciation to the staff of Bernard Funeral Home and the congregation of Bernard Ridge Church of God.
