Picking The Winners

Moving In

With bulldozers still hard at work around the building, the Belleview Police began moving out of the K-Mart Shopping Center and into the new Police Building on SE 110th Street behind city hall this week. The Police Department is expected to be open on Monday. (Photo from the files of the Voice of South Marion 25 Years Ago)

Rehearsing for Christmas

Sally Farror, Joyce See and Ruth Tuttle and the combined Chancel and Fellowship Choir prepare to rehearse for "A Christmas Glow" which will be performed December 17 at 7 p.m. (Photo from the files of the Voice of South Marion 25 Years Ago)

Captain's Award

Belleview Long John Silver Manager Mila Garcia was the winner of the Captain Award which carries a $5,000 prize. Mila is the granddaughter of the late Julius Bullman who was a businessman and City Commissioner in Belleview for many years. (Photo from the files of the Voice of South Marion 25 Years Ago)
