

LOVETT DRESSES UP FOR RED RIBBON WEEK

All photos Special to The Clinton Courier.

Pictured (l to r) dressed up for "Drugs Can't Find Me" (camouflage) are, front row: Quynhvy Van, Davis Fortenberry and Kaitlyn Graham; and back row: Robert Hampton, Nathan Perkins, Laurn Taylor, Adesoji Olagbegi, Anna-Lynn Fayard, Keelon Weathers and Tripp Wood.

Pictured (l to r) dressed up for "Coyboy Up and Give Drugs the Boot" are, front row: Jaziah Williamson, Chloe Dickinson and Summer Shelton; and back row: Steven Hernandez, DJ Dolson, Joel Taylor, Payton Knowles and Ontario Braden.

Kacey Lott, Santino Barr, Ethan Herrington, Terrence Dorsey, Makayla Welch and Shamiya Hill

Mrs. Pennington's Class

Lovett Elementary, the Clinton Public School District's sixth-grade school, recently celebrated National Red Ribbon Week, the nation's largest and oldest drug prevention campaign. Students dressed up for theme days to correspond with drug-free messages.

Dressed as tacky tourists for "Life's a Journey, Travel Drug Free" day are Adesoji Olagbegi, Nathan Perkins, Aiden Dowsing and Amaycia Magee.

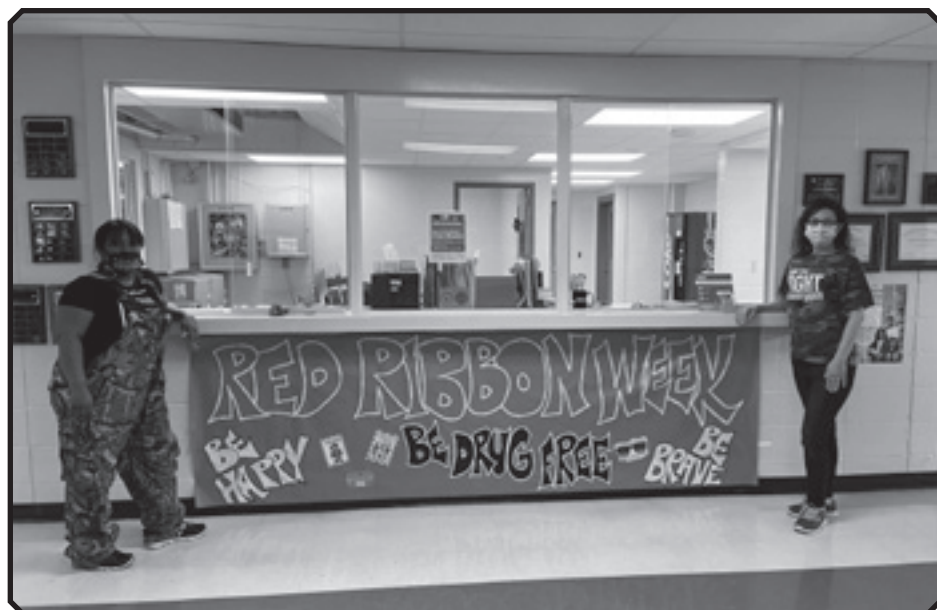

Jasmine Martin, Ellie Strickler, McKenzi Alphonse and Bryson Bell

Amanda Pennington, Marion Tucker, Julianna Dicke, Kim Mardis and Teresa DeLaughter

Amya Watson and Ashley Hunter

Jessica Smith and Daphne Karl

Pictured (l to r) "Telling Drugs to Take a Hike" on camping day are, front: Case Hopkins; and back: Carmen Young, Calynn Croxdale, Morghan Sutton, Elyn Burchfield, Ellen Claire Fortenberry, Harper Davis, Amya Watson and Ansley Kate Rutland.