Buzzed Driving is Drunk Driving

Sheriff Barry Faile and the Lancaster County Sheriff's Office remind all that drunk driving is serious business and encourage all travelers to act responsibly and be safe during the holiday weekend which begins at 6:00 p. m. this Wednesday, November 24, and ends at 6:00 a. m. Monday, November 29.

It is illegal to drive in every state in the nation with a blood alcohol concentration of .08% or above, except in Utah, where the limit is .05%. Even if you don't take the Datamaster test you can still be charged and your license will be suspended. Still, impaired driving takes a tremendous toll in property damage, injury, and loss of life in South Carolina and across the nation.

Statistically, the Thanksgiving holiday is marked by a high incidence of impaired driving some attribute to "Blackout Wednesday" which is the heavy consumption of alcohol the Wednesday before Thanksgiving. Nationally, from 2015 through 2019, 800 people died in alcohol impaired crashes from Wednesday through Sunday of Thanksgiving weekend, and 135 of those died on Thanksgiving Eve.

During calendar year 2019 10,142 people were killed in drunk driving crashes across the nation. That's one drunk driving death every 52 minutes. 204 of the deaths were of children 14 and younger. In two-thirds of the crashes, at least one driver had a blood alcohol level or .15% or higher. About a third of traffic crash fatalities in America involve drunk drivers.

Deputies of the Lancaster County Sheriff's Office will be paying particular attention to cars on the roadways this week and weekend and will stop cars seemingly operated by impaired drivers. The costs of drunk driving are high. Lawyer fees and fines, court costs, and insurance charges can top $10,000.00 for a conviction for Driving under the Influence. Jail time is a real possibility. And drunk driving crashes can be devastating. You can kill yourself or a friend or family member riding with you or the occupants of the car you hit. Felony Driving under the Influence can result in years in prison.

Sheriff Faile doesn't want his deputies to have to lock you up over Thanksgiving. "The best way to avoid being charged with DUI is don't drink and drive," said Sheriff Faile. "Even one drink is too many to get behind the wheel. Stay home if you're going to drink, or arrange a designated driver or a ride service if you go out. If your friend is about to get behind the wheel after drinking, take his or her keys and get him or her safe transportation home. If you see somebody driving drunk, call 911 and provide as much information as possible so an officer can make the stop before a tragedy happens. I want everybody to be safe this Thanksgiving as we gather with friends and family and reflect on all the good things of life."
