Life's Ethics

By Helen Vogt Greene

Dale Dauten is a well-respected author and columnist who writes about the business community. Many years ago, he wrote a column about the "Contribution of Ethics" in Business Today, LIFE is a business and more than ever ethics should be a part of it.

Ethics are "well-founded standards of right and wrong (good and bad)." Words such as moral duty, obligation, benefits to society are words used, especially when using the word ethics. When will we learn right from wrong?

Ethics are personal and should touch and be a part of the lives of each person. In life, it is important for us to "make ourselves useful." Just don't stand there - we must be doing something for others. Why is it that some just wait for the 'other person' to do what needs to be done?

Are you a Life Team Player? Are You ready to play the game of Life-ethically? There will always be 'Star Players', but life is a 'Team Game' and it is important that we start to work together as a 'team.'

Stop thinking that you only have to do half of the work. Your share of life's responsibilities, at all times, should be 60 percent or more if needed.

There are those that believe Dale Dauten's comment that "innovation is subversive...most ideas are complaints." Yes, their are those who 'idea' it is to be noticed, to be selfish and self-centered. They can be a distraction in life. But, there are those that will shine in this world of darkness and lead the way.

There are those that feel that in life ideas, suggestions and things that you do for others produces results that live on and give back to others on the path of life. The gift is in the giving. There will always be the 'takers and jerks' along the way.

Did you ever meet someone that 'always' had to be right? "Being right is overrated." Admitting that you are wrong can be an unwrapped gift and a learning experience for the future.

It is always right to be thankful for the small gifts of life. When you explore life and are willing to learn, you become a more ethical person. When you reach out to others and to life, your life will be fuller and will take on more meaning. Don't be afraid to give back.

Life is the most game we will ever play. Are you a 'team player' or are you still on the bench? There is a position in life for you. Your life's position in the game of life is not being filled, because you are not in the game. Get off the bench! The Game of an Ethical Life starts NOW!

Looking Back...

ONLY PURE WATER FOR LAKE WORTH

Members of the town commission, determined that Lake Worth shall be the most healthful city in Southern Florida, have taken steps to improve the water supply of the community.

At the recent meeting of the commission Dr. Gavlas, city physician, was instructed to study the situation and to find means, if possible for giving the people even a better water supply than they have at present.

"We want to give the people the best there is," said Commissioner Hifner, in discussing the matter, "and are going to do it. We wish to extend the use of city water so far as we can, as water drawn from a well sunk deep in the solid rock naturally is better than water drawn from comparatively shallow wells.

"The commission will welcome suggestions making for the betterment of the city, and we will gladly join hands with any move which will place Lake Worth ahead of any other city, in the matter of cleanliness and health, in the country.

"Lake Worth is clean and healthful at present, and it is our intention to keep it so. To that end we ask the cooperation of every good citizen."

LAYING MORE SIDEWALK

Sidewalk is being laid along the south side of Lake avenue, between I street and H streets, and eventually the walk will extend to the railway station.

STAMP COLLECTING WITH DAN MADDALINO

In a world of stamp sets and large themed issues sometimes a single stamp will cause you to pause and say "I need this for my collection." That is the case with the USPS September 5, 2010 single issue titled Mother Teresa (Scott #4475).

Remembered for her compassion toward the poor and suffering, Mother Teresa (1910-1997), an ethnic Albanian, served the sick and destitute of India for nearly 50 years. She was first drawn to the religious life as a young girl and left her home at 18 to serve as a Roman Catholic missionary in India. While there, she was inspired by the poverty and suffering in the streets of Calcutta, to devote her life to the needs of these indigent residents.

Mother Teresa first extended the work of her Missionaries of Charity beyond Calcutta in 1959, and in 1965 she established the first foundation outside India. Today, the Missionaries of Charity provide much-needed services to impoverished people all over the world.

Centered in Calcutta, the Missionaries of Charity operated leprosy clinics, orphanages, nurseries, schools, medical care for the sick and diseased, and housing. Their work on behalf of the poor addressed the urgent needs of the city's impoverished, providing some relief from Calcutta's pressing poverty and overcrowded conditions.

This stamp features a portrait of Mother Teresa painted by Thomas Blackshear II of Colorado Springs, Colorado.
