The Small Stuff

We have probably all heard the wise advice to not sweat the small stuff. The corollary to this advice is that in the grand scheme of things it's all small stuff. The exam you are fretting over or the bill to be paid probably won't be remembered in 10 years, and in the eternal scheme of things, almost nothing on this earth has any great importance, except perhaps the fate of our souls. This is why the great spiritual teachers have always told us to keep our eyes on eternity. It relieves us of the anxiety over our daily cares and woes, and puts things in their proper perspective. This doesn't mean that we shouldn't take care of our daily needs; food, clothing and housing are all important to a healthy life. But we shouldn't be overly-anxious about these things. An anxious mind that is constantly worrying about these minor things indicates that we have taken our eyes off of the eternal things. Trust in the Lord that things are unfolding as they should, and be at peace with the things you cannot change. It is always wise to work intelligently to improve our lives, while realizing that there are many things which we have no control over.

-Christopher Simon

"Therefore I tell you, do not worry about your life, what you will eat or drink; or about your body, what you will wear. Is not life more than food, and the body more than clothes?"
