

The Greensburg Rotary Club is placing personal care boxes at local businesses to collect items such as soap, toothpaste, toothbrushes, deodorant, detergent, toilet paper and other such items for distribution at the local food pantry. Rotarian Nancy Stearman presented the idea to Rotarians last week after she learned from local food pantry manager Jan George that donations of cash and food items were coming in well but personal care items are needed. Monetary donations are used very cost effectively to purchase food in large quantities, but personal care items are badly needed. Boxes are being placed at Limestone Bank, Forcht Bank, Community Trust Bank, Longhunters Coffee and Tea Co., City Hall and the office of Nancy Stearman, CPA. Four other boxes will be placed in the near future.
