Gunn calls on governor to enforce unemployment rules or end $300 a week pay

Mississippi Today By Geoff Pender and Bobby Harrison

in the COVID-19 benefits employees to return to work program.

"I and other House mem-Speaker Philip bers are continually being Gunn says Mississippi small contacted by increasingly businesses can't find work- desperate small businessers because of an extra $300 people who inform us their ernors of Montana and a week federal unemploy- businesses are at risk," Gunn ment pay, and he's asking wrote to fellow Republican Gov. Tate Reeves to enforce Reeves, and copied the letter job search requirements or to all House members. "They end the state's participation report that they cannot get

Auditor's office partners with school districts to cut outside-the-classroom spending

News Release

JACKSON, Miss. - Mis- examined with these cuttingsissippi public schools could edge data analytics techeliminate ineffective out- niques. side-the-classroom spending tricts to find ways to improve ers and the classroom." how they operate. This pilot Auditor.

the of time and offered data- supply chain management. driven recommendations to eliminate useless spending.

solidated School District every year. - volunteered to have their

Obituary

ELAINE ROBINSON HUTCHISON

Elaine Robinson Hutchison, 91, of Sallis, MS passed away Saturday, May 8, 2021 at Baptist Medical Center in Kosciusko, MS.

A graveside service was held on Tuesday, May 11 at Pleasant Ridge Cemetery near Sallis, MS.

operations and expenditures

"I'm thankful for the leadto potentially redirect over ership these school districts $200 million to teacher sala- showed by volunteering to ries and classroom expenses go under the microscope in each year, according to re- the public view," said Audiports released this month by tor White. "I was happy to State Auditor Shad White. help these school districts White's office recently part- identify ways they can priornered with three school dis- itize their spending on teach-

Across the three school project was conducted with districts, GlimpseK12 identhe help of the advanced data tified opportunities to elimianalytics firm GlimpseK12 nate ineffective spending and was funded by the Mis- which would lead to annual sissippi Office of the State savings of between $7.5 and $12.3 million. The spending project, areas with the largest op-GlimpseK12 reviewed every portunities for cost savings expenditure made by three include software and digital school districts over a period products, maintenance, and

These school districts combined serve nearly 14,000 After the Auditor's office children. Together, they repreleased a series of educa- resent a range of municipal, tion spending reports in county, and consolidated 2019 and 2020, representa- school systems. This level tives from three school sys- of savings spread across all tems - Columbus Munici- public school students in pal School District, Hinds the state could lead to over County School District, and $200 million of eliminated Starkville Oktibbeha Con- outside-the-classroom waste

> "I attended Mississippi public schools until I graduated from college, and I'm the child of a 35-year public school teacher," said Auditor White, "so I'm committed to doing my part to help make our public schools the best they can be."

> Previous reports from the State Auditor's office showed ballooning outsidethe-classroom spending, a comparison of education spending in other states, and priority given to administrative pay raises.

because they can earn more from combined federal and state unemployment benefits than their normal wages." Gunn noted that the gov-

South Carolina last week announced they were ending their states' participation in the $300 a week federal CO-VID-19 benefits. Politicos and pundits nationwide have surmised increased pandemic unemployment benefits and stimulus payments have incentivized many people to not return to work.

Gunn said he's heard reports that unemployment claimants are not following requirements that they earnestly search for jobs, and that "MDES is not effectively enforcing that require-

Reeves' office did not respond to a request for com-

Last August, Reeves announced the state would participate in a federal CO-VID-19 unemployment stipend created by an order of the Trump administration that would provide unemployed Mississippians an extra $300 a week. In Mississippi, state benefits are a maximum $235 a week, with the average payment at less than $200, compared to the national average of $308 a week.

House Ways and Means Chairman Trey Lamar, R-Senatobia, said he has heard from numerous employers in his district that they can't find workers because of increased pandemic benefits.

"Not just one or two (employers)," Lamar said, "but a substantial number of businesses just here in my little hometown of Senatobia restaurants, other businesses. The place where I used to get coffee in the mornings can't open in the mornings because they don't have enough workers ... I think it's past the point for this. People can safely go back to

But Mississippi has suffered from low wages, lack of jobs, high unemployment and low workforce participation long before the pan-

House Democratic Leader Rep. Robert Johnson of Natchez said, "let's raise the minimum wage first," before ending the pandemic unemployment stipend.

Johnson said "people have been working in poverty" because of the state's $7.25 an hour minimum wage and should not be blamed for taking advantage of an oppor- $45,081, also a trend predattunity to earn more thanks ing COVID-19. to the $300 per week federal benefits stipend. Plus, he mist recently reported that said, cutting the benefits off the state is forecast to see a without taking other steps major economic rebound in could harm people who are 2021, including job growth legitimately unemployed. of 1.8%, the highest an-

He said many states nual increase since 1998. have increased their mini- He noted that much of that mum wage to as much as growth would be due to $15 per hour. If it was in-federal COVID-19 stimulus creased to $9 or $10 an spending. hour in Mississippi, Johnson said it would help low wage workers and boost the economy.

Rep. Chris Bell, D-Jackson, said, "It's very unfortunate to hear about ending the unemployment benefits for Mississippians who are currently out of work."

person who would rather re- Aiden Dax Adcock, Matt ceive these benefits than find Casey meaningful employment," Bell said. "The extension Diane O'Reilly, Earl Ables, of unemployment benefits Ed Wilburn Hooker, Joyce should not expire."

ment for March was 6.3%, Head, Mary Cassidy, Molly higher than the national av- Miller erage of 6% and up from 6.1% in February. Overall, Dudley Rinicker, Emily Mississippi's number of jobs Padgett, Qimei Wong, David remains down by 3% from Box ranked last, at 56.1%, in Jacqueline Epps, Christopher workforce participation — a Truitt, trend that predates the pan- Frances Hodges, Christy demic — and it ranks last in Hudson, Katy McGinnis, median household income at Lilly Austin, Mills Heard of clocking into work and Rogers returning to his home for extended periods of time. He Sarah Parrish, Wells Gardner also allegedly used a districtowned vehicle to conduct his Nikki Merchant, Ford Atown personal business. Bel-kinson, Jackson Atkinson, lande was issued a $2,870.99 demand letter when he was David Kennedy, Andrew Learrested. This amount in- flore, Peggy Leflore, Victoria cludes interest and investiga- Stewart tive expenses.

"I applaud the work of our investigators in this case and their cooperation with other law enforcement agencies to ensure the other illicit activities that were discovered will be fully investigated and prosecuted," said Auditor

Both Ludlow and Bellande were taken into custody at their respective homes on Wednesday morning with assistance from other law enforcement agencies. Bond at Lexington, Mississippi by for both men will be set by Holmes County Herald, Lexthe court. Both cases will be prosecuted by the office of District Attorney Crosby

No surety bond covers either man's employment at the Biloxi Public School District. Surety bonds are similar to insurance designed to protect taxpayers from corruption. They will remain liable for the full amount of the demand in addition to criminal proceedings.

Suspected fraud can be reported to the Auditor's office online any time by clicking the red button at www.osa. ms.gov or via telephone during normal business hours at

Mississippi's state econo-

Happy Birthday

May 13 - Emily Henderson, Breyanna Sumerall, Sherie "I don't know of a single Lanier, Kyle Langford,

May 14 - Sallie R. Brooks, Bethany, Tommy Thomas, Mississippi's unemploy- Hubert Robertson, Jana

May 15 - Janie Sims.

May 16 - Steven Thomas Mississippi for March Holder, Clarence Byrd Ryan

> May 17 - Margie Hooker, Colton Sumner, Robbie

May 18 - Haden Box,

May 19 - Justin Branch, Jeff Trehern, Travis King,

(USPS 247-680) HOLMES COUNTY HERALD

Periodicals postage paid ington, Mississippi.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to: Holmes County Herald, P.O. Box 60, Lexington, MS 39095. Published each Thursday at 308 Court Square, Lexington, MS 39095. Telephone 662-834-1151; Fax 662-834-1074; Email hcherald@gmail.com; Website www.holmescountvherald.com

Julie Ellison...Gen. Manager

SUBSCRIPTION RATES In Holmes County -$35.00 In Mississippi -

$40.00 Outside Mississippi -$50.00

Auditor arrests two Biloxi Public Schools employees for fraud and embezzlement

News Release

JACKSON, Miss. - Today State Auditor Shad White announced Special Agents from his office have arrested Michael Ludlow and Mickey Bellande, Jr. after both were indicted for fraud and embezzlement. Both Ludlow and Bellande are former maintenance employees at the Biloxi Public School District. Demand letters were presented to both men upon arrest.

Michael Ludlow is accused of submitting fraudulent timesheets from October 2020 to November 2020 to embezzle money from the Biloxi Public School District. He was allegedly absent from work during time he claimed to be present. Ludlow also purportedly conducted personal business at other times he was on the clock and being paid by the school district. Special Agents presented a $6,678.32 demand letter to Ludlow when he was arrested. The demand amount includes interest and investigative expenses.

Investigators also believe Ludlow purchased controlled substances during the workday while using a district-owned vehicle away

MICHAEL LUDLOW

MICKEY BELLANDE, JR.

appropriate law enforcement agency and is pending pros-

Mickey Bellande, Jr. also allegedly submitted fraudulent timesheets from May 2020 to August 2020 in orfrom school property. This der to embezzle from the incident was referred to the school district. He is accused 1-(800)-321-1275.

Kosciusko Monument Company 225 HWY 12 W. • 662.792.4139 "The Best Prices In Town."