Sumner Hill awarded resources to support grieving students

Special to The Clinton Courier

The New York Life Foundation and the Coalition to Support Grieving Students has approved $500 to support Sumner Hill Junior High School as a Grief-Sensitive School. These resources will provide staff training to educate Sumner Hill's teachers and staff on how to better support grieving students and to provide a "safe room," where students can go when facing challenging situations. This room will serve as a comfortable place for counseling and useful resources. Pictured (l to r) are Christie Claxton, principal; Dr. Nikisha Ware, New York Life Insurance Company agent; and Heather Norton, school counselor.
