Obituaries

Lukas Yeske

Lukas Mark Yeske, "the man, the myth, the legend," age 41, passed away unexpectedly on Thursday, Jan. 7, 2021. Luke was born on March 25, 1979, to Mark and Cindy (Morgan) Yeske. He worked as an operator for Yeske Construction ("Let 'er go"). Luke married his best friend Jillian (Irwin) on Dec. 12, 2014. He was a friend to everyone he met and would help anybody with anything at any time with a smile on his face.

There wasn't anything he couldn't do. The lessons we've learned from him and the love we have for him will never be forgotten. His loving personality, "wise beyond his years" attitude, and heart of gold will live on through all of us. Luke's passion was living life to the fullest through music, cars, boats, motorcycles and snowmobiles. Luke lived the life he loved and loved the life he lived. He is survived by his loving wife, parents, pretty girl Riley (his dog), Grandma June and Justin, along with countless family and friends.

HE WILL FOREVER BE OUR FAVORITE SONG.

The family extends a special thank you to each and every one of you. A celebration of life will be held at a later date.

Richard married Donna Rae B. Meseberg on Oct. 13, 1956, at St. Joseph Catholic Church, LaCrosse. He worked as a tool and die maker for the University of Wisconsin Madison for many years. Richard enjoyed golfing, gardening, woodworking, traveling, hunting and fishing, but you could always find him around a bonfire with friends and family.

The Christmas wreath, 2020 edition

Editor's note: The following was intended for The Reporter's Christmas issue, but was mistakenly left out.

Submitted by Nick Lowe

It started the weekend of Thanksgiving 2020. The weather was ideal for putting up outside decorations this year. Like many Edgerton residents, I took advantage of the nice weather. Although a single male in my early 40's, I consider myself quite festive, and I even enjoy decorating my old house in mostly basic holiday décor. In one of my trips to my basement for the garland and red bows to wrap my front porch, I noticed the wreath hanging in the entry way to the basement, the wreath I had hung on the grill of my commercial delivery work truck for many years, not too many, maybe 8.

It was a basic plastic wreath, probably purchased here at the Family Dollar store. It has a green lightweight plastic frame and sort of shiny pine tinsel-like rope with a few flat shiny candy canes. The tinsel rope is wrapped around the frame to form the wreath. I put it in my car to take to work the next day and attach it to the grill of my 2019 Volvo semi truck. I knew 3 medium duty zip ties would hold it.

That Monday morning the wreath was hung, and I thought the Christmas season of 2020 was underway at 70 miles an hour down Interstate 90. At the end of Monday, I checked on my trusty wreath only to find it had unraveled itself and was messily strewn across the grill of my semi tractor. I was quickly saddened, as I thought it was another casualty of the year 2020. I clipped off the zip ties holding the wreath on the grill, and held the Dollar Store wreath in my hand and thought a moment. Was this the end of my jolly trucking tradition?

I took the wreath home to my garage. I carefully wound the green tinsel rope around the green wreath frame and attached it with some small green zip ties. A few minutes later, my wreath looked good enough and worthy to be on the front of my trusty Volvo truck. I checked this afternoon at the end of my route, and my wreath was holding steady, leading the way this holiday season once again.

I'd like to think we all can reflect on my cheap, but meaningful, wreath and relate it to the difficult year of 2020 we all are having. Traditions will probably be changed this year and look a little different. But hopefully a green ziptie, patience or some warm hope is all we'll need to make it together through this holiday season. If you see my white Volvo Semi truck and black flatbed behind it on the roads of southern Wisconsin this year, check to see if the wreath is there. While you're at it, look in the cab; see if I found my red and white Santa hat I usually wear while driving at 70 miles an hour.
