Dixon City Council approves road work, appoints temporary interim Collector

By Haley Blackburn

The Dixon City Council met for their regular meeting on January 4, 2021 to discuss road work, appointed temporary city collector, approve payment of December bills, and other action. The meeting was called to order at 6:00 p.m. In attendance were acting mayor Mike Null, and council members Anthony Campbell, Diane Shultz, Trevor Warnol, and Mary Wiles. Alderwoman Barbara Thomas was not present.

After the approval of the agenda, the council went into closed session to discuss real estate and legal matters.

When the meeting resumed open session, Dixon resident Auston Hansmann requested that repairs be made to the street that he lives on. Katie Lane has deep ruts which makes it hard for Auston and his family to travel on with their cars. The City Council approved work on Katie Lane for gravel and white chat to fill the ruts.

It was announced that Glenda Pennington has recently retired as the Dixon City Clerk. Also, Miranda McLendon has been appointed the temporary interim collector until the municipal election in April 2021. The council annually reviews office positions after elections.

The council members went on to discuss and review and approve the payment of the December bills.

The Assembly of God church recently had some work done beside their church building, where an old house was torn down, and the council discussed that the church has taken responsibility for the fees.

Next on the agenda was the discussion of updating the signatures on the city bank accounts. The council approved the addition of office administrator, Diana Burns, along with Councilwoman Mary Wiles for signatures on the accounts.

The final item on the agenda was a request to DNR for a two year extension for the sewer project. A five year extension was granted instead for the project. Null's goal is for the project to be finished in three years.

Before adjourning the council went into closed session for personnel, legal and real estate matters.

The next regular meeting of the Dixon City Council is scheduled for Monday, February 1 at Dixon City Hall starting at 6:00 p.m.

Friday ice storm causes power outages

Friday's ice storm caused a limb to fall on a power line and break a pole behind the Dixon Pilot building. (Submitted)

By Connie Erisman

Friday's ice storm wreaked havoc throughout the area with different power outages in Pulaski, Maries, Phelps and Miller counties, according to representatives of Gascoage Electric Cooperative.

There were approximately nine pole breaks that carried power lines and Gascoage crews worked tirelessly over the holiday weekend into the darkness trying to get power up and running for residents and businesses.

New poles had to be installed and many other repairs were still being worked on at press time, according to Gascoage. Once again, a big thank you to Gascoage crews for your commitment to keeping us powered up! - CE
