Hunters can apply electronically for quota hunts through Ga. DNR

Beginning Monday, June 1, hunters can apply electronically for quota hunts including youth, deer, alligator, waterfowl, dove and turkey, according to the Georgia Department of Natural Resources' Wildlife Resources Division.
 "Interested in participating in a quota hunt this year? Be sure to take note of quota hunt deadlines and get that application in before that date," says Tina Johannsen, Assistant Chief of the Game Management Section with the Wildlife Resources Division. "Quota hunts allow for a specific number of hunters are on a particular area and provide for excellent hunt opportunities."
 A quota hunt is a scheduled event at a Wildlife Management Area or other state-managed property where a limited number of hunters are allowed. Quota levels are based upon the sound principles of wildlife management and public desires for a quality hunt. These hunts provide a challenging and rewarding experience to hunters of all levels. Selected hunters must be properly licensed to participate in a quota hunt.
 Applying for a Quota Hunt is simple. Visit www.goutdoors-georgia.com and select "Quota Hunts" and follow the steps to complete your application. Make sure your email is current and correct in order to receive quota updates, confirmations or any notices about quota hunts.
 Application deadlines vary depending on hunt type. The first deadlines are July 15 for Alligator, August 15 for Dove (including Adult/Child hunts), and September 1 for all types of Deer Hunts (including Youth hunts). Check the complete deadline list located at <http://georgiawildlife.com/hunting/quota#deadlines>.
 To view selection odds, based on previous years' applicants, visit <http://georgiawildlife.com/hunting/quota#odds>.

Georgia DNR to celebrate Nat'l. Fishing, Boating Week

You probably don't "need" a reason to go fishing and boating... but when we tell you it is National Fishing and Boating Week (NFBW), doesn't that provide one more excuse to get outdoors? Celebrate NFBW from June 5-13, 2021, according to the Georgia Department of Natural Resources' Wildlife Resources Division (WRD).
 "Boating and fishing are great activities that you can enjoy with your family and friends and that provide many benefits," said Scott Robinson, Chief of the WRD Fisheries Management Section. "Benefits include connecting with family members, providing an opportunity for stress relief, and actively supporting conservation efforts with the purchase of a fishing license, equipment and boating fuel."
 National Fishing and Boating Week began in 1979 and was created to recognize the tradition of fishing, to broaden the spirit of togetherness and to share the values and knowledge of today's anglers with tomorrow's anglers.
 How to Celebrate: FREE FISHING DAYS! In the spirit of introducing new family members or friends to the sport of angling, Georgia offers two FREE fishing days—Sat., June 5 and Sat., June 12, 2021—during this special week. On these days, Georgia residents do not need a fishing license, trout license or Lands Pass (WMAs/PFAs) to fish.
 Where to Celebrate: There are so many great places to fish in Georgia, from trout streams in North Georgia, to large reservoirs, to lazy rivers in the south part of the state. You can always start at one of the 11 Public Fishing Areas (<https://georgiawildlife.com/allpfas>) or at one of many Georgia State Parks (<https://gastateparks.org/>) that offer fishing opportunities for family and friends. There also will be multiple Kids Fishing Events on these days (<https://license.goutdoorsgeorgia.com/Event/Calendar.aspx>).
 According to the National Fishing and Boating Week website, one of the main reasons people don't go fishing or boating is because no one has invited them. YOU can help change this! Make it a mission during National Fishing and Boating Week, or the next time you go fishing, to take someone new: a child, a relative or a friend.
 For more information on National Fishing and Boating Week and all it has to offer, including free fishing days, nearest kids fishing event or places to fish, visit www.georgiawildlife.com/nfbw.
