City Council approves extension of Progress Blvd.

By Kendra Hennis
The meeting of the Tuscola City Council was called to order on Monday, September 13 at 7:30 p.m. with all members present. During the consent agenda, the council approved the 2021 fireworks display for September 25 at 9 p.m. The fireworks will be shot off from Wimple Park, which they hope will allow the display to be visible from the high school homecoming dance as well as the Downtown Block Party. It was noted that it should also minimize the fire danger from nearby standing corn. In his report, Mayor Dan Kleiss exclaimed that he was excited about the fireworks and all of the weekend's events, and said he was hoping for good weather. He also sent condolences on behalf of the city to the family of B. J. Hacker, former Mayor of St. Joseph, on his passing. He ended by noting that he had attended the 9/11 Memorial Ceremony put on by the VFW on Saturday. Kleiss said that it was a beautiful display, thanked them, and said that it was a very moving tribute. The council then approved waiving formal bidding for the North Progress Boulevard Extension, a proposal from Beniach Construction for North Progress Extension in the amount of $344,259.61, and approved a cost sharing agreement with Kirby Foods for the North Progress Extension in the amount of $150,000. This project will allow for the completion of an extension of Progress Boulevard to the north, in order to provide access to the loading docks for the new IGA store under renovation. City Administrator Drew Hoel noted that while waiving formal bidding for projects of this scale is not common, they felt it was necessary and justified because there is very limited time to complete the project before winter - which is necessary for store operations; increased engineering fees to prepare a full bid packet (and the time required to bid) are unlikely to be offset by lower pricing from a bid process; the project is very small, with a tight timeline, which tends to limit potential bidders; and they compared the submitted proposal to a similar project bid two months ago

Villa Grove community reflects on September 11, 2001

By Tony Hooker
Twenty years ago, the United States of America came under attack by ruthless terrorists, an event that not only impacted our feelings about our country and its security, but also the way we live our day to day lives. I caught up with several prominent local citizens to share their remembrances of that terrible day, and its aftermath. Sara Jones, Villa Grove High School principal
Do you remember exactly where you were and what you were doing when you first became aware of the horrific terrorist action on 9/11?
I do. I was driving to Newman grade school getting ready to teach third grade. While I was in class, we had a TV going in the library and we discovered that the second plane had hit.

What was your immediate reaction?
I don't think we knew what was going on, but we knew it wasn't good. I was 23 years old and had a bunch of eight-year-olds in the classroom and we didn't know what to think. How did your school respond?
We tried to explain what was going on the best we could, but we didn't understand what was going on at that point because the president had not addressed the nation. We really didn't know, and we just tried to reassure them that "you're in Newman, nobody is after us, you're going to be safe", that sort of thing. We had a couple of parents that were in the military, so we made sure to contact them and they got to talk
