back and a time to reach forward; a time for letting go and a time for discovering hopes and dreams that are yet unborn; a time loving hearts to gather and a time to celebrate all that you are, and all that you will become.”

Peabody Scholars Zachary Taylor and Karen Walk delivered addresses to their classmates as well.

“Without a doubt, I’m certain that we feel a mix of emotions as the high school phase of our lives come to a close,” Taylor said. “Graduation is a day of moving on with the weight of our achievements propelling us forward. As this class begins their journey to wherever life takes each of us next, I know that with our impressive history, we will continue our leaps in great strides.”

“This upcoming year, many of us will be moving away and going somewhere new,” Walk said. “We won’t have the support from the community like we did from the people of Trenton. Whatever we plan to do after high school, we will be doing out of the norm. Today marks the beginning of that journey and the end of the previous journey. I hope all of you go on to create a life you enjoy and are happy with.”

As the commencement ceremony concluded, Principal Shane Jacobs reminded the Class of 2022 that their future was as bright as they wanted it to be.

“On Wednesday night, we presented $2,785,878 in scholarship money that this class has earned,” Principal Jacobs said, “but that incredible dollar amount does not come close to describing the potential of this class. This Trenton community has a proud history of turning out some of the best and brightest minds of each generation, and this class is certainly no exception.”
