

“Church buildings are of brick and mortar. It’s the outreach and ministry of your congregation that Barger understands and builds for its clients. Our commitment to you and your needs are faithful.”

OUR HISTORY Barger Construction Company was originally established in the 1950’s by Mr. Sam Barger. In 1967 William C. (Buster) Barger joined the company followed by Thomas R. (Randy) Clement in 1973. Both gentlemen joined as partners and continued as partners after Mr. Sam Barger retired in 1983.

In January 2010, Barger Construction Company underwent its latest ownership change. Buster and Randy sold their interest to Randall Gillespie and Mark White. Randall and Mark have continued Barger Construction Company as a general partnership, operating as a general contractor, specializing in commercial construction.

Barger Construction Company has continued to provide the same quality service and care for our customers for the last 50 plus years. We are small enough to personally meet the needs of owners yet large enough to provide a professional, quality product. We have highly competent project superintendents on staff, each with over twenty-five years construction experience. Our Company continues to maintain an excellent credit rating and a good reputation with past project owners. We continue to foster a family atmosphere of a small company by retention of valuable skilled employees while being competitively aggressive in the construction industry. Barger Construction Company does not currently nor in the past ten years, have any pending litigation, bankruptcy or insolvency proceedings filed against it.

For more than 60 years, Barger Construction Company has strived to provide our clients with a product that they can be proud of for years to come. As a company, we understand the importance of the trust that the owner must have in us and we are committed to the success of every project. Our team will focus on your project, from start to finish, to ensure an exceptional product. This all starts by working closely with the architects, engineers, owners, and our subcontractors. We will use our strong foundation of experience, expertise, and commitment to excellence to make your vision a reality. A brief listing of our vast project experience is listed below.
