WHY DO WE HANG UP CHRISTMAS STOCKINGS?

According to legends from Scandinavia listed on History.com, there was a man who had three daughters. He was poor and worried where they would end up when he died. Saint Nicholas heard the villagers talking about them and decided to help. Knowing the man would not accept charity, he delivered the money in secret. Jolly Old Saint Nicholas dropped three bags of gold down the chimney the family's home. The bags were caught by the stockings hung up to dry as well as the shoes placed in the hearth. Because of this, kids in Scandinavia continually put their shoes in the hearth on Christmas Eve.

Leaving stockings up for Santa Claus in the United States solidified as a tradition with the release of "A Night Before Christmas" by Clement Clarke Moore, where in the poem he writes, "The stockings were hung by the chimney with care, in hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there." This Christmas poem was released in 1823 and continues to remain at the forefront of most Christmas traditions.
