isn't only designed to be safe, and comfortable for your pet, it's also designed to be stylish, and verging on cutting edge trends. Everything from tufted stepstools to help your pets get on their favorite cushy couch, to designer food bowls and water dispensers is in the lineup.

Shower rooms for dogs, snack trays built to feed your pooch, and so much more are part of this ever-growing phenom.

On average, research says that many pet owners will spend as much as $1,000 or more this year keeping up with these popular pet trends.

However, not everyone can afford a luxury life for their pet no matter how much they love them, so here are a few ways to add a touch of panache for your furry four-legged companion. You don't have to build them their own shower, special staircase, or create a bedroom for them. There are simple ways to make their lives better.

1. Get a stylish doggy or kitty bowl. $5 - $15
2. Fluff up the bedding. Stylish and comfortable bedding for cats and dogs alike can be had for under $20.
3. Use better products to care of your pet. If there is an instance to now skimp on cost, it's on the products you use to wash and pamper your pet. These help the hair and skin stay healthy, just like with people.
