proficiency, and to support high standards of professional practices.

“The year 2022 is shaping up to be a great one for tourism in Kentucky - maybe even bigger than pre-pandemic,” Marson said. “I am honored to be president of this great organization.”

“We have a lot of brand-new, executive directors of tourism in Kentucky, and there is no better place to learn and grow in the industry than the Kentucky Association of Convention and Visitors Bureaus,” she said. “Directors come in, learn, and then bring new, innovative ideas to promote their communities.”

“I’m excited for the new year, and to guide our association to even greater heights,” Marson said.

KACVB collaborates with sister organizations such as the Kentucky Department of Tourism, Kentucky Travel Industry Association, Kentucky Restaurant Association, and the Kentucky Marina Association.

Marson, who has been the executive director of the Lake Cumberland Tourist Commission in Russell County since May 2013, will serve as president of KACVB through the year, and will conclude her appointment at the December 2022 meeting.

Executive officers for 2022 include: Vice President Traci Cunningham, Oak Grove Tourism, Secretary Lori Murphy, Richmond Tourism Commission, Treasurer Lori Saunders, Georgetown/Scott County Tourism, and immediate past president Erin Carrico, Murray Convention & Visitors Bureau.
