Hidden Treasures with Love THE SWORD OF GOD

Gen-3:24- So he drove out the man; and he placed at the east of the garden of Eden Cherubims, and a flaming sword which turned every way, to keep the way of the tree of life.

This treasure will reveal some of the mystical powers of God’s sword that has kept the way back to the tree of life for over 6,000 years! In the beginning, God said, “Let there be light, and there was light.” Key words are “God said.”

Rev-1:16-And he had in his right hand seven stars: and out of his mouth went a sharp two-edged sword: and his countenance was as the sun shineth in his strength.

Rev-2:16-Repent; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

In Genesis, the sword was a keeper of the Tree of Life and in Revelations it becomes a killer!

Rev-19:21-And the remnant were slain with the sword of him that sat upon the horse, which sword proceeded out of his mouth: and all the fowls were filled with their flesh.

Gen-1:11-And God said, Let the earth bring forth grass, the herb yielding seed, and the fruit tree yielding fruit after his kind, whose seed is in itself, upon the earth: and it was so.

Gen-1:26-And God said, Let us make man in our image.

Key Verse-Eph-6:17-And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God.

God said and it was so points up toward the power of his word!

Heb-4:12-For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword.

Such powers are limited by disobedience and unbelief. While the sword of God and its unlimited powers set idle in the homes of church people while TVs are overly used, Satan has taken control over schools, cities, streets, social media, government, and many churches!

Luke-16:(21-22)-When a strong man armed keepeth his palace, his goods are in peace, But when a stronger than he shall come upon him, and overcome him, he taketh from him all his armour wherein he trusted, and divideth his spoils.

They say in God We Trust, while abortion clinics remain open and same sex marriages take place in every courtyard. Satan has disarmed church people through TV and the internet, while their sword is collecting dust on a shelf. Can they not see the word of God in Sword? I now change the title by Removing “S” in Sword!

The Word of God by Mike Willen with more love than you know!
America has laid down her sword and has surrendered to chaos and corruption!

AVOID THESE ESTATE PLANNING MISTAKES

When many people hear the words “estate planning,” they assume it’s just for the wealthy. But that’s not the case because everyone can benefit from an estate plan. And when you’re creating one, you’ll want to avoid some common mistakes.

Before we look at those mistakes, let’s go over what estate planning is designed to accomplish. Essentially, an estate plan allows you to pass on your assets in the way you desire. But it can also specify other actions, such as naming someone to care for your minor children if you were no longer around. In creating an estate plan, several key documents are involved, including a will, a trust, a financial power of attorney and a medical power of attorney or a health care directive.

Now, let’s consider a few estate-planning mistakes:

Not communicating your plans. You’ll need to inform your family about whom you’ve chosen as executor – the individual who will administer your estate – and whom you’ve named as the trustee – the person who will manage your trust’s assets. (You can also choose a trust company to handle this duty.) And to help avoid unpleasant surprises when your estate is being settled, consider letting your children or other close relatives know who will be receiving what.

Not reviewing your plans periodically – Once you create your estate plans, don’t forget about them. Over time, your personal situation may change – you may experience a remarriage or bring in new children. Your interests may change, too – perhaps you’ll become deeply involved in supporting a favorite charitable organization. Given these and other potential changes, you’ll want to review your estate plans once in a while to see if they need to be modified.

Not updating beneficiary designations – Every so often, you may want to review the beneficiary designations on your life insurance policies, investment accounts and retirement assets. As mentioned, changes in your life, such as remarriage and the addition of new children, may affect your beneficiaries. Beneficiary designations are powerful and can even supersede your will, so you’ll want to update them as needed. Also, if you have a 529 education savings plan, you’ll want to name a successor owner – someone who can take over your 529 if you were to pass away.

Not re-registering assets placed in a trust – A living trust offers you many potential benefits, such as the ability to bypass the time-consuming and highly public process of probate when it’s time to settle your estate. However, just establishing the trust, by itself, may be insufficient – you likely also need to re-register assets, such as your investments, so they are officially owned by the trust, not by you. This is essential for the trust to work as you intended.

Here’s one other mistake – not getting the help you need. Estate planning can be complex, so you’ll want to work with an attorney, and possibly with your financial advisor and tax professional, too.

By avoiding key mistakes and working with a qualified team of professionals, you can create and maintain an estate plan that will help you leave the legacy you desire.
