

The Times Journal

WEEK: August 4, 2022

Year 72, No. 4

A member of the Jobe Publishing Inc. News Network

50¢

JOBE PUBLISHING-“Of, by, and for Kentucky”

Help is on the way!

South-central Kentucky newspaper chain seeks assistance for flood victims in eastern part of state

JOBE Publishing is challenging media outlets throughout Kentucky, and citizens across the Commonwealth to join together in helping flood victims in the Eastern part of the state.

“Wherever one may live in Kentucky, we’re ALL neighbors,” Jeff Jobe,

Founder and CEO of Jobe Publishing/Jobe Holdings, said.

Jobe, owner of eight newspapers with a combined coverage circulation of approximately 36,000 in south-central Kentucky, is asking for his employees, fellow media outlets, and citizens in the area to “do all they can” to provide assistance for their “neighbors.”

HELP,

Continued on page 2

After two year hiatus

Community Health Screening returns

By Wade Daffron
TJ Editor

After a two-year hiatus, the popular Russell County Hospital Community Health Screening returns this week.

through this Friday, and continues next Monday through Friday, is already hosting large crowds for $15 blood counts, chemistry profiles (Including glucose levels), lipid profiles

HEALTH,

Continued on page 2

4-H State Champions Kate Daffron and Elizabeth Hoskins.

RC has two state 4-H champions

Two Russell Countians earned championship ribbons in a state 4-H competition.

Kate Daffron and Elizabeth Hoskins brought home both blue and championship ribbons in the recent Kentucky 4-H

Communications Day.

In the event, held July 9 at Red Oak Elementary, in Nicholasville, Daffron was Champion of Senior Performing Arts, and

4-H,

Continued on page 2

RCPL Con carries on

Hundreds attended the second RCPL Con Saturday at the Russell County Public Library, in Jamestown. Some participants dressed in costumes, others enjoyed games and events, and all immersed themselves in a day dedicated to all things pop culture.

Above, Graphic Designer Shelbie Stidham talked to aspiring artist Charlie Carnes at the Con. Mid right, a crowd watched Ben Foster conduct a Midnight in Kentucky Podcast. Right, Bailey Kerns ain’t ‘fraid of no ghosts, and brought his customized Ghostbusters vehicle for all to see. Below, Josi Smith, left, of Russell Springs, had an image painted on her face during Saturday’s event.

Discover Our Digital Copy At

russellcountynewspapers.com

Subscribe online or call
270-866-3191

Follow Us Online

0 94922 65918 7

Lending Solutions for Your Life

Whatever life brings your way, from the planned to the unplanned, our lenders are here to help find solutions for your lending needs. Talk to us today!

FIRST NATIONAL BANK
Russell Springs

(270) 866-4343 • www.fnbrs.com

MEMBER FDIC NMLS #424151