

Green County Fair Mini, Truck, Tractor Pulls

Smoke and flying dirt hid the pulling sled from view at the KOTTPA Truck and Tractor Pull Friday night. The pulls are a crowd favorite and were able to go on without a hitch thanks to the Green County Fair track crew despite a heavy rain earlier in the day.

Debbie Froggett, a fan favorite every year at the Green County Fair, pulled Bad Medicine at the KOTTPA Truck and Tractor Pull Friday night.

The Heart Breaker, another Froggett truck, barrels down the track at the Green County Fair's Truck and Tractor Pull last week.

Jake Bishop placed third in the 750cc Class Thursday night at the Green County Fair and Horse Show.

Drivers of all ages participated in the mini tractor pull last week at the Green County Fair.

C.J. Rock pulls in the 750cc class of the mini tractor pull last Thursday at the Green County Fair. Rock and his sister, Heather, also pulled in the open class.

Future Fair Board member Jake Bishop put in more hours on the track than just about anyone last week, and not as a competitor. The Fair Board appreciates all of their hard working volunteers.

The 2022 Green County Country Club Invitational is this weekend, and the field of competitors is almost at maximum capacity. Tournament Director Brennen Milby said pretty much all over that the tournament is limited to 96 golfers and they almost have that number registered but if anyone is interested in playing, Milby can be reached at 270-299-6388. “We have people coming from Bowling Green, Scottsville, Lebanon, Campbells-ville, Lexington and torBrennenMilby said pretty much all over that the tournament is limited to 96 golfers and they almost have

Each player plays 18 holes on Saturday with Sunday’s competition being played in flights with each person playing another 18 holes. “We have prizes to give away that include Titleist clubs to the winner,” Milby said. “We will also be giving away Titleist balls to the person closest to the pin on both days on designated holes.” Milby knows that an event this size requires a lot of time for several people. “We want to thank the sponsors, board members, volunteers and club members,” Milby said. “The tournament needs all these people to make it happen.”
