

Back-to-School events

Kindergarten student Easton Burriss observes the bulletin board at an entrance to the Green County Primary School during Back-to-School Fest Tuesday evening.

GCIS teacher Ms. Kristy Sullivan discusses the upcoming school year with the Daniels family. Cale, seated, will be in third grade.

The Green County Primary School cafeteria served as a temporary holding place for school-related supplies furnished by the school's PTO for the coming year.

Adanta personnel were on hand at each festival. Above, they greet Karsen Willoughby and little sister Kaylee.

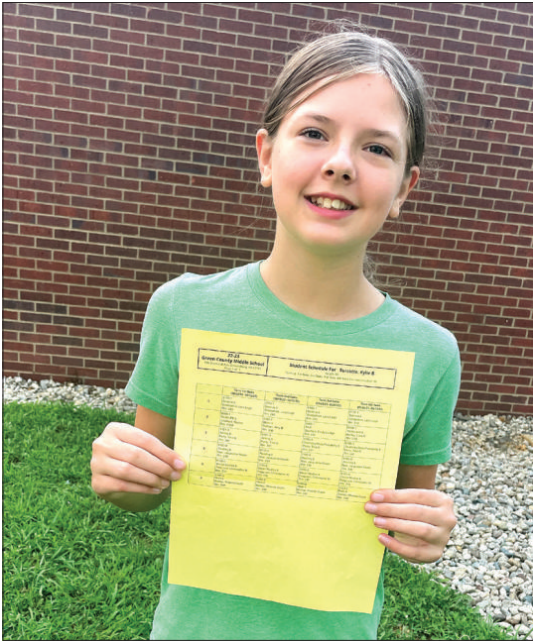

Green County Middle School Principal Ms. Kayla Daniels greets students and their families upon entrance at the back-to-school festival Wednesday.

Green County Intermediate School Principal Ms. Donna Young greets students during the back-to-school festival last Thursday night.

Green County Middle School students picked up their schedules from secretaries Lindsay Brown and Carol Henderson.

Kylie Turcotte shows off her Green County Middle School schedule.

Photos by R-H Staff

During GCHS's Back to School Fest, students and parents had the opportunity to receive information on many programs and sports the high school has to offer. Incoming freshman Ella Mills looks on as her mom, Amanda, signs up for information about the bowling team from Coach Tammy Cooper.

Green County Area Technology Center instructor Josh Parrish talked with students and parents about his program at last week's Back to School Fest.