

WEST ALLEN NEIGHBORS

BY COUSIN MINNIE

Will you be watching the Kentucky Derby on Saturday? I've heard that a horse born in Bowling Green, Ky. is a favorite to win. Wouldn't that be something?

I dropped my bottom teeth last week and they broke right in the middle! I wanted to crazy glue them, but several told me that wouldn't be safe. We had to send them off and I was without my bottom plate for almost a week. I sure was glad when they called and said they were ready!

Some of Frankie Lambert's visitors this past week were: Jim Meyer, Hillous Patrick, Chloe Falica, Kim Lambert, Barb Gibbons, Bro. Kaleb Anderson, Sheila Uhls, Amanda Turner, Dianne Lambert, Rita Wallace, Mark and Linda Lambert. She sure enjoyed all the attention!

Bro. Mark Meador preached at Harmony Church on Sunday night. He told Mark Lambert he was glad to see him not using a walker like he was the last time he was at Harmony. It was right after Mark fell out of his deer stand. The Good Lord was watching over him when that happened.

If you're looking for outdoor furniture, you need to take a trip to Whispering Pines on Old Franklin Road.

They have a huge selection of swings, swing frames, single and double gliders and more.

Dorothy Calvert will celebrate her 90th birthday on May 5. Please take a few minutes and send a card to her. She loves receiving them! Send to: Dorothy Calvert, Cal Turner Extended Care, 456 Burnley Road, Scottsville, Ky. 42164 Thanks, Harris.

As the primary election draws near, voting station election officer training was held last Tuesday at White Plains Baptist Church Fellowship Hall. Everyone was updated on the new scanning equipment and regulations, which ensures the voter of confidentiality as well as security of the election results.

Voter convenience is being implemented with three days prior to May 17 to vote as well as any voter station in Allen County can receive a registered voter and provide the ballot for the area candidates. Details of the election process and candidates are in your favorite local newspaper, The Citizen-Times, each week.

The South Ridge Singers will be in concert at Smyrna Church, 709 New Roe Road on Sunday, May 15 at 6 p.m. The new group is known for their singing ability, as they have been witnessing in gospel music for years. A very well known Allen County native, Gordon Meador is one member of the group and the congregation at Smyrna invites everyone to partake in the blessings for the evening.

Bro. Hillas Pardue, pastor at Smyrna, reports on the ministry at the Allen County Detention Center. Several residents desired repentance for their lives and asked for baptism to be performed. We all overlook some of our neighbors and friends with our fast paced society, yet rejoice when we hear of a ministry resulting in an upbuilding kingdom beyond this earthly life.

Good news for Alan Bomar as shoulder replacement surgery was successful and a hospital stay was short. He will have a short rehab for a few weeks, yet looks forward to the future of reaching for the clouds.

Birthday greetings are sent to Ms. Marjorie Miller, as May 1 is the celebration of another year. A well-known elementary teacher beginning in the one-room school at Harmony and then "upgraded" to the White Plains School. This was before the modern brick building was built and she witnessed many years of progression in education of Allen County, which has benefited many lives even to the present time.

Matthew 17:20, And Jesus said unto them, Because of your unbelief: for verily I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you.
