KELLEY ENGLEHARDT (seated with computer), from Downtown Design spoke at the Barnyard 4-H meeting on March 22. She first talked about how she started the business and what Downtown Design is. She later discussed and created with all of the 4-H club members a new club shirt. Englehardt did an amazing job communicating with everybody and sharing what she does. Submitted photo. MAYOR DAN KLEISS, left, along with Alderwoman Terra Waldrop, talk about government with students at North Ward Grade School last week. Waldrop is secretary at the school. Submitted photo.

other energy providers available. In any case, the energy is transmitted through Ameren's lines and is billed through Ameren.

"As shocking as the increase is, it is much better than we were anticipating," Hoel said. Some of the bids for the co-op program were as high as 10 cents.

The city participates in the Central Illinois Municipal Aggregation program with 21 other cities. If residents wish to stay with the CIMA rate, they do not need to do anything.

The city will be sending out information to residents.

In other business, Chris Hoogendyk addressed the Tuscola City Council Monday night asking that the age for golf cart operators be lowered to 16 from 18.

Mayor Dan Kleiss said he would put the question on the agenda for the next Council meeting to give residents time to weigh in. In the meantime, Hoel will have an ordinance drawn up for the change in case the Council votes for it.

The Council approved an outdoor sales event April 22-23 for Rainbows and Sunshine Boutique.

The family of Gunner "Jerry" Taylor would like to thank everyone for their kind words, visits, and memorials in Gunner's name. And thank you especially for your prayers.
