

FROM WHERE I SIT
BY PELICAN PETE

IThe best place in Lake Worth Beach to see btts is not the beach... nope...it's the Cultural Plaza...seems those that hangout there think planting their butts in the planters and throwing them in the grass will grow new ones...saving them $10 per pack...problem...they don't sprout, they just stink and clutter the area....thank goodness for the volunteersw meticulously collecting butts from the plaza to make it nice for a couple hours until those who hang there return to throw their butts in the planters so everyone who visits the Cultural Plaza can smell them.

Fear not...since the Cultural Plaza has been taken over by those who really don't care, just across the street is a nice stand of Travelers Palms with some pretty cool knitting on display and a fresh green lawn, albet behind a fence...

Speaking of fences, it appears a few of the electeds...the sunflowers... are against funding the promised fencing at the cemeteries in the south end of Lake Worth Beach...these sunflowers don't care about anything in Lake Worth Beach unless the Queen Sunflower Cara doesn't tell them to... Commissh Sarah has her hands full trying to keep the promises made by all and now supported by about one.

Bring Your Appetite...
No Matter What You're Craving!

LAKE WORTH BEACH is known for its uncommon style on pretty much everything... daily happy hours, sidewalk dining, art galleries, outdoor murals, shops and its own community playhouse. Come and delight your senses and experience this small town with BIG escapes!
