

Emergency Services conduct simulated training event

Emergency services personnel, during Saturday's simulated training practice, worked with an injured victim involved in a three-vehicle accident.

An action review session was conducted after the simulated training exercise for emergency services personnel. Representatives from a number of entities, including some from other counties, were part of Saturday's event. They included: American Red Cross, City of Greensburg, Edmonson County Emergency Management (EM), Grab Volunteer Fire Department, Green County Area Technology Center Health Science, Green County Coroner, Green County EM, Green County EMS, Green County Fiscal Court, Green County Rescue Squad, Green County Schools, Greensburg Police Department, Greensburg/Green County E911 Center, Greensburg/Green County Fire and Rescue, Green County Sheriff's Department, Hart County EM, Kentucky State Police, LaRue County EM, Logan County EM, Logan County Search and Rescue, Summersville Volunteer Fire Department, Taylor County Coroner, and White Oil Company. Green County Emergency Management sponsored the emergency services training event; Greensburg/Green County Fire and Rescue served as host.

Greensburg/Green County Fire and Rescue assisted in the removal of accident victims by using a Jaws of Life during a simulated training drill Saturday.

Injured accident victims waited to be carried to the triage center by a Green County ambulance during Saturday's simulated training drill.

During the mock training exercise, an injured victim was prepared for transport.

An accident at the corner of Industrial Park Road and Carlisle Avenue, featuring a fuel truck, private vehicle, and a school bus, provided the scene for Saturday's simulated training exercise involving emergency services personnel.

Piper, with owners Ritchie and Nikki French, was on the scene during Saturday's event.

During the mock training exercise, local EMS workers prepared an accident victim for transport to the triage center.
