

UT offers Turf Tuesday

KNOXVILLE — The University of Tennessee Institute of Agriculture is continuing its monthly digital learning series titled Tennessee Turf Tuesday. The free monthly webinar will occur on the first Tuesday of each month through October, with each session highlighting a different area of turf management.

Monthly sessions will provide listeners with the latest research from faculty, staff and students in the UT Turfgrass Science Management Program. The live webinar will be held 10:30-11:30 a.m.; however, all sessions will be recorded and archived for later on-demand viewing.

"The growth of Turf Tuesdays has really been special," says Jim Brosnan, professor in the UT Department of Plant Sciences and director of the UT Weed Diagnostic Center. "We have a great lineup of guests for 2023 and look forward to sharing our discussions with turfgrass managers across the region."

Topics for the sessions are as follows:

- May 2 — World Cup Update
- June 6 — All Things Dollar Spot
- July 11 — A New Era at UT Turfgrass
- Aug. 1 — Disease Control Update
- Sept. 5 — Supply Chain Issues & Pest Management
- Oct. 3 — The Sod Checkoff. What is it? Why is it Important to You?

Sessions provide continuing education opportunities from the Golf Course Superintendents Association of America and American Sports Builders Association CEUs. The webinar will additionally offer pesticide re-certification credits in Alabama, Georgia, Hawaii, Kentucky, Michigan, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and West Virginia.
