Contractors restore façade of historic Armory

Western Specialty Contractors - Springfield branch has restored the brick and stone façade of the historic Armory at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign - home to the Fighting Illini track and field team.

The Armory was originally designed by William Carbys Zimmerman as a military drill hall, athletic facility and assembly hall. Constructed in 1912-14, the building was once the largest free-span, no-center-support-system structure in the world. In 1927, a multi-story addition designed by Charles A. Platt was built around the building adding classroom and office space. Its facade matches the Georgian Revival style found in nearby university buildings such as the Main Library and Huff Hall. Today, the Armory is an anchor point for the university's south campus and used for track and field meets and other events.

Western contracted with project general contractor Grunloh Construction of Effingham, IL to tuckpoint the Armory's east elevation as well as portions of its north and south elevations. The scope of work also included the demolition and rebuilding of an existing parapet wall using block masonry, salvaged stone and fabricated stone that closely matched exist-

Bill to fix prescription medicine rule advances

SPRINGFIELD- A rule in Illinois law has left many people "out in the cold" when it comes to picking up their medicine from their local pharmacy, says Sen. Chapin Rose (R-Mahomet). Under current law, licensed pharmacy staff must be present when customers pay for and receive their prescriptions, which means that when the pharmacist goes home for the night, customers can't pick up their medicine - even though it has already been dispensed, filled, packaged, and labeled with the customer's name on it.

That will all change under legislation filed by Rose and passed by the Illinois Senate on March 30. Rose's legislation will allow cash register clerks and other store employees to go ahead and process the sale, even though the licensed staff has already gone home for the night.

"How many of us have been frustrated trying to pick up a 'script' at the pharmacy only to find that while the retail portion of the store is open, the pharmacy counter is not? You know your medicine is sitting there, just on the other side of the window, it even has your name on it, but the clerk at the cash register can't sell it to you," said Rose. "This is especially frustrating for those who work late, second shift, etc. You try and run by to pick up the script on the way home, but the pharmacy counter is closed," he continued.

A shortage of licensed pharmacists and staff has led to many stores cutting back hours and leaving patients in the lurch. This is even more true in the rural areas of Illinois.

Additionally, while the current rule can be a major inconvenience for consumers, it can also be an extremely serious medical issue for those who require access to critical, life-saving medicines.

"In fact, in a conversation just this week with a working mom, she told me how she missed the pharmacy hours by just a few minutes after getting off work late. Unfortunately for her, that meant that she missed picking up necessary asthma medication for her child. Ultimately, she had to drive hours to find an open pharmacy to fill the script. This is exactly why this legislation is needed," said Senator Rose.

Rose's bill, Senate Bill 1889, now awaits action in the Illinois House.
