game," said Roberts. "I think that not being able to practice outside has kind of hurt our confidence and being able to run the bases the right way; take grounders the right way and stuff like that."

It has been nearly a week and a half since Arcola played.

For the third straight game Hohlbauch started and Sisk finished. She threw the last 3 innings and allowed only one hit with one walk and five strikeouts.

"I like coming in like that better than starting," said Sisk. "You can get more of a feel of the game and Kiera tells me what is working and to throw it hard and up or the junk low."

Hohlbauch pitched 4 innings and allowed four hits and two runs with four walks and nine strikeouts.
