RISE launches substance abuse outpatient help

deep compassion and a commitment to integrated care, we aim to provide a lifeline of support to those grappling with substance use disorders, while recognizing the essential connection between mental health and addiction.

For far too long, individuals battling substance use disorders have faced an uphill battle in their journey to recovery. A fragmented healthcare system, societal stigmas, and limited resources have often left them feeling isolated and unsupported. However, today marks a new chapter—a chapter where we stand united, committed to offering a holistic approach that uplifts the mind, body, and spirit.

Our outpatient substance use services are built upon the understanding that addiction is a complex issue intertwined with adverse and traumatic experiences. By addressing multiple facets, we can help individuals reclaim their lives and rebuild a future filled with hope and resilience. Through evidence-based practices, personalized treatment plans, and a network of compassionate professionals, we are breaking down the barriers that have hindered progress for far too long.

One of the key aspects of our program is the integration of mental health services alongside substance use treatment. We recognize that mental health disorders often coexist with addiction, exacerbating the challenges individuals face. By providing comprehensive support, we aim to break the cycle of self-medication and offer a path to true healing.

Our outpatient services encompass a wide range of treatment modalities tailored to each person's unique needs. From individual and group therapy sessions to medication-assisted treatment, we offer a continuum of care that empowers individuals to take control of their lives and embrace lasting recovery. We are dedicated to creating a safe, non-judgmental environment where individuals can find solace, understanding, and the strength to overcome adversity.

We understand that embarking on the path to recovery takes courage, and it is our privilege to walk alongside everyone, providing unwavering support and guidance. Our current substance use provider, Amina Feder, is passionate about making a positive difference in the lives of those affected by substance use and mental health disorders. Amina focuses on utilizing a creative and engaging trauma-informed, strengths-based, and client-centered approach to services that equip clients with the individualized skills and supports that will help them meet their needs and goals.

RISE is excited to offer DUI and substance-use services to Douglas County and for continued collaborations creating a network of support with substance use-related service providers including Douglas County Probation and the Hour House. Assessment and outpatient treatment services will be available to adolescents, adults, and their families needing substance use support. As we embark on this journey together, we invite you to join us in creating a community where no one is left to battle their demons alone. Together, we can shatter the stigma surrounding addiction, cultivate empathy, and pave the way for a brighter and more compassionate future.

If you or someone you know needs support, please reach out to RISE Behavioral Health and Wellness at 217-253-4731. Remember, healing is possible, and we are here to help you every step of the way.

Let us embrace healing, one heart at a time.
